Braniff Suspension At Lincoln Big Surprise

The suspension of trunk line service to Lincoln by Braniff Airways came as a surprise to state officials Monday.

The suspension action, the result of an order from the Civil Aeronautics Board, was unexpected by state officials who had urged the retention of Braniff at Lincoln.

Frontier Airlines which headquarters in Denver, will replace Braniff at the Lincoln terminal. It will be one of the 2 lines to serve Nebraska with commuter-type air service.

The Braniff trunk line ran between Kansas City through St. Joseph, Lincoln and Omaha.

To Kansas City The Frontier service will run to Kansas City from Omaha, Lincoln, Beatrice, and St. Joseph.

State Aeronautics Dept. Director Rolland Harr said the state would undoubtedly ask the CAB for a reconsideration of its order on Braniff.

Harr added that the changes in service would be effective 60 days after the CAB final order, but he could not give a date because of a possible reconsideration of the Braniff issue.

John Mitchell, manager for both United and Braniff Airways in Lincoln, said that he had received no official notification of the changes. It had been United's intentions, he said, to pull out of Scottsbluff, North Platte and Grand Island when the other airlines took over. Omaha and Lincoln would then be the only United terminals in the state, Mitchell said.

Mitchell received a call from an official spokesman for United Airlines general headquarters office in Chicago Monday.

PATIO TEMPS TO CONTINUE OVER STATE

Continued warm weather is the outlook for Nebraska Tuesday, with temperatures rising into the 75-85 degree range.

Widely scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers are on tap for the west, the Weather Bureau said.

Lincoln reported the state high of 81 Monday.

A few scattered showers splashed the North Platte vicinity as partly cloudy skies prevailed over most of the state.

Witnesses Say:

Killer 'Can't Act Or Feel Like Normal Person'

Starkweather Says He'd Like To Bomb Psychologist

By Del Harding

Two defense medical witnesses testified Monday that murder defendant Charles Starkweather is unable to think, act or feel like a normal person, especially when he is under stress.

Dr. John J. O'Hearne of Kansas City, Mo., said that the 19-year-old redhead does not appreciate the value of any human life, even his own.

Asked by Co. Atty Elmer Scheele if Starkweather realized during an Apr. 9 interview with the psychiatrist at the State Penitentiary that he (Starkweather) would soon be on trial for his life, Dr. O'Hearne said Starkweather not only recognized it "but laughed about it."

Dr. O'Hearne said Starkweather is much more worried about being found insane than he is in going to the electric chair for the shooting of Robert Jensen of Benet Jan. 27. He has a severe lack of realization of the consequences of an act of violence, Dr. O'Hearne said.

Dr. John F. Steinman, Lincoln psychiatrist, will be first on the stand Tuesday morning as the trial enters its 12th day in Lancaster District Court before Judge Harry A. Spencer. He will be the 28th defense witness.

Asked About Testimony Dr. O'Hearne said that during the Monday noon recess he asked Starkweather what he thought about the testimony of Dr. Nathan Greenbaum, Kansas City psychologist who testified for the defense Monday morning.

Dr. O'Hearne said Starkweather declared that "if I had a grenade (bomb) I'd kill Greenbaum with it."

"What about the other people (in the courtroom)," Dr. O'Hearne said he asked him. "To hell with them," the redhead reportedly replied.

Dr. O'Hearne said Starkweather also wants to shoot his former boss (John Hedge of 801 Eastridge, who appearing as a defense witness termed Starkweather his "dumbest" employee) and his own attorney, T. Clement Gaughan (apparently because of the contention of insanity being used to defend him).

Dr. O'Hearne said he believes Starkweather has a "diseased and defective mind," and that he "goes to pieces" under stress.

'Lacks Ability'

The psychiatrist testified that he does not believe Starkweather had the ability to premeditate the robbery or the killing of Jensen, for which he is on trial. The youth is charged both with first degree murder and murder while in the perpetration of a robbery.

Dr. O'Hearne said he believes Starkweather, at the time he admittedly shot Jensen in a storm cellar east of Benet, was a "frightened animal trying to escape."

(Starkweather was already being sought for the murders of the Marion Bartlett family of Lincoln.)

While saying he does not believe Starkweather suffers from "delusions," Dr. O'Hearne said he "misinterprets" things. If the 17-year-old, 240-pound Jensen turned on him after being told to go down into the storm cellar,

Man Injured In 2-Car Collision

A 2-car collision at 26th and Orchard late Monday night sent James A. Brim, 29, of 2930 O to St. Elizabeth's Hospital with scalp lacerations. Brim was held for further observation.

Driver of the other auto was Jack E. Kirkland, 27, of 6824 Leighton. Both vehicles were heavily damaged.

Dr. O'Hearne said, Starkweather no doubt shot him without any hesitation.

'Acute Fear'

The doctor said Starkweather has an acute fear of a "big man," even though he (Starkweather) may be armed and the "big man" may not be. He said Starkweather would jump from the "impulse to the action" when he believed he was in danger from such a man, whether or not his fears were justified.

Dr. Greenbaum had said Monday morning that Starkweather has a "severe warping of his emotional facilities" so that he does not experience feelings as other persons do.

"People are no more important (to him) than a stick," the psychologist said. Starkweather also has "grown up in a vacuum" and is not a part of society, Dr. Greenbaum added. The former garbage collector also lacks the capacity for control of anger that the normal person does, he said.

'Impulse To Act'

Dr. Greenbaum also cited (Continued on Page 7, Col. 5.)

Satellite Project Delayed

... Anderson Says

Washington (AP)—Sen. Clinton P. Anderson (D-NM) Monday night described the Soviet space satellite program as amazingly similar to one drafted by the Air Force in 1955 but pigeon-holed by the Defense Department.

Anderson said the discarded Air Force "world series" program called for the launching of a satellite in July 1957 similar to Sputnik I. The final "world series" satellite would have equaled the 1½ ton Sputnik III launched by the Russians last Thursday.

"It would make you think they found the (Air Force) notes lying around," Anderson told interviewers in a transcribed radio program (Reporters Roundup-Mutual).

Asked whether he implied Russians espionage was responsible, Anderson replied "I only say that they came out with the same thing."

3 to 5 Years

Anderson, senior Senate Democrat on the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee and a persistent critic of U.S. atomic-satellite policy, said it will be 3 to 5 years before this country perfects a nuclear propulsion plant for satellites.

But he said he does not believe the Russians used atomic power to launch the giant Sputnik III. Such power will be needed only for space ships that would land on the moon and then return, he added.

Anderson said he has criticized President Eisenhower's civilian space agency proposal in part because "it fails to mention nuclear propulsion in any way."

As far as catching up with the Russians, Anderson said we now have the rockets to match the Sputniks but have not developed the auxiliary equipment. He said such equipment is secret.

Yugoslav Prince Visits Here

most beautiful buildings in the world," and after sampling some Nebraska beef, said he found it the "best in the world." His views on the culinary achievements of our state were concurred in by Leon Rudd of Paris (right), an owner of the famed Lido Club of Paris and who also owns several "snack bars" in France. Yugoslav Prince Alexander 'Impressed' With Midwest

By Betty Person

A suave, young prince, exiled from his country since advent of the Communist regime of Tito in 1941, visited Lincoln briefly Monday stating that he was "very much impressed" with the entire Midwest, and particularly impressed with the beauty of Nebraska's capital.

Prince Alexander of Yugoslavia not only was taken by the grandeur of the State Capitol which he toured, but noted as well that the building was "warm" which he found unusual for such a large masonry structure.

The 33-year-old prince said similar buildings in Europe are so cold they are practically uninhabitable during the fall and winter months.

An enthusiast of "airplanes and water skiing," Prince Alexander stopped here on a pleasure tour to "eat some real good meat," and after sampling some of Nebraska's famous corn-fed beef, he termed it "the best in the world."

Prince Alexander had spent the past week at Loveland, Colo., as the guest of former Nebraskan Horace Watkins, an independent oil dealer whom he met on one of Watkins' frequent trips to Europe. The son of ex-regent Prince

Civilian Agency Okayed

... In Space Work

Washington (AP)—The House Space Committee Monday night unanimously approved a bill to set up a strong civilian agency to direct America's non-military space ventures.

The committee, headed by House Democratic leader John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, said:

"The task of a space agency, and the major task of the nation behind it, is to initiate and follow the boldest and most sustained large scale effort in the history of man's exploration."

The new bill closely follows recommendations of President Eisenhower for an agency to help overtake Russia in the space race.

Stronger

In some respects it would make the civilian unit stronger, as compared with the military space effort, than the administration first requested last month.

A copy of the document was immediately sent to Eisenhower's science adviser, Dr. James R. Killian. This was an unusual gesture of courtesy between a congressional committee and the White House.

McCormack called the measure vital to the nation and held out prospects for House passage before the end of this month. That would send it to the Senate space committee which is considering a similar bill.

Earlier Monday the committee's staff issued a report calling for broad civilian control over space development.

The White House announced that Mr. Eisenhower will fly by helicopter to Gettysburg, Pa., to vote in the primary election before going to New York. He plans to leave Washington at 7:45 a.m. (CST) on the 30-minute copter flight to Gettysburg.

Chief interest in the primary centers in the race between the President's former disarmament aide, Harold E. Stassen, and pretzel manufacturer Arthur T. McGonigle for the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

After voting, the President will proceed via the "whirlybird" to Harrisburg, Pa., where he will board his personal plane, the Columbine III, to fly to New York.

Dictator Role Over France Renounced

Paris (AP)—Gen. Charles de Gaulle declared Monday he is again at the disposal of France to bring order out of chaos. He renounced any role of dictator, but said he would require extraordinary powers if he took the helm of government.

The towering gaunt World War II hero spoke out at a crowded Paris news conference. Then he returned to his village home to await his country's decision.

His statement brought a slight easing of tension in France. Some thought it appeared de Gaulle might come to power through constitutional means in the crisis arising from the Algerian rebellion.

Allied officials in London suggested he had lowered his price to boost his prospects for assuming leadership.

Moment At Hand

De Gaulle told almost 700 reporters he thought the moment has come when he might "possibly be of direct use once again to France."

Standing ramrod straight and speaking in a clear, firm voice, de Gaulle said he is ready to serve "if the people wish, as in the preceding great national crisis, at the head of the government of the French Republic."

"I am a man alone," de Gaulle asserted, "because I am tied to no party nor to any organization... I am a man who belongs to no one and who belongs to everyone."

Shrugging aside a question

CENSORSHIP?

Paris (AP)—The French government Monday started stationing censors in the Paris offices of news agencies. It was the first such action taken in peacetime in modern French history.

The government of Premier Pierre Pflimlin sent censors to check stories at the semi-official French News Agency and the United Press.

Censors reportedly will be assigned to other news agencies Tuesday.

on public liberties, the general asked:

"Have I ever attacked fundamental public liberties? No, I restored them when they had disappeared. How would you have me, at 67, start a career as dictator?"

De Gaulle was asked a general question on what he would do in Algeria—in the Nationalist rebellion situation now complicated by the French military-colonialist rebellion against Premier Pierre Pflimlin's Paris government. He replied:

"I envisage the case where the French people might ask me to act as an arbitrator," he replied.

Must Remain Intact

He declared Algeria must be kept from separating from France — "something which Algeria does not want, nor France either."

Shortly after he spoke, the French information ministry in Paris issued a casualty report for the continuing warfare in Algeria. It announced Algerian nationalists killed 46 French soldiers and 33 civilians in the last week and said the rebels lost 447 killed and 1,047 wounded or captured.

Strain Shows As Testimony Begins On Starkweather Mentality

By Nancy Benjamin

A trial within a trial began Monday for Charles Starkweather as his defense attorneys launched their final drive to prove their client legally insane.

Two defense witnesses, a psychiatrist and a psychologist, occupied the witness stand for the entire day's proceedings.

If the time-consuming examination and cross-examination was trying on the witnesses, it was even more difficult for the defense and prosecution attorneys who were attempting to make their points on what is likely to be the key issue in the final verdict.

The jurors also showed strain and tension during the long and complicated questioning about the medical testimony on insanity. But Charles Starkweather seemed more interested in his feet, and focused his gaze on them during most of the session.

His resentment of his attorneys' attempts was brought out in afternoon testimony when Dr. John O'Hearne said on the witness stand that Starkweather had told him he wished to kill an earlier witness, Dr. William Greenbaum who testified to Charles' insanity.

Affected Mother

The grueling sessions also had an effect on Mrs. Helen Starkweather who remained outwardly calm, but complained of a headache and left at the afternoon recess.

She was present, however, when Dr. O'Hearne, a Kansas City psychiatrist, said that 2 other Starkweather family members with whom he had talked displayed the same tendency as the defendant in being unable to realize that others might be hurt by certain actions, or to be able to feel emotion for others.

Commenting on this, Dr. James Reinhardt, University of Nebraska criminologist, who has been present frequently in the courtroom as an observer, said: "That family is not on trial."

'Regret Expressed'

"Mrs. Starkweather had expressed to me several different times her deep regret and sympathy for the victims and survivors," he affirmed, adding that "I was almost as mad as Charles when they said that."

During his testimony, Dr. O'Hearne described Starkweather's appearance and reactions during the 8-hour medical and psychological examination given in April by the 2 Kansas City medical men.

Starkweather "flushed easily", O'Hearne related, and seemed unwilling to co-operate at times during the testing, "apparently afraid to undergo a physical examination."

"Everything he did or said was grist for my mill," the psychiatrist explained. "I offered him the little steel hammer with which I test reflexes and he seemed afraid to handle it."

Starkweather also balked at being "backed into a corner" during the test, and objected strongly to being struck on the back during the test.

Maladies Listed

Dr. O'Hearne listed some of Starkweather's physical maladies as a perforated left eardrum, poor reflex reactions, and a tenderness suggesting a peptic ulcer.

The psychiatrist elaborated on the ear injury as a symptom of a past infection in the middle ear—only one inch from the brain—which could have led to a brain abscess or other brain damage.

Starkweather refused to have an electro-encephalogram made to determine if there had been brain damage.

Mentally, Dr. O'Hearne admitted, Starkweather could and would answer correctly to a question of what is right or wrong if he was not under stress, but under stress he "would function more like an animal than a human being."

at the time he allegedly shot Robert Jensen with a quick, "I wouldn't have stood around to ask him."

Repeated Attempts

Co. Atty. Scheele made repeated attempts to bring out the possibility that many of Starkweather's impulsive reactions were common in the majority of criminals, and that most of the findings of the witnesses stemmed from their knowledge of the crimes committed by Starkweather.

The 2 medical men remained adamant that Starkweather's behavior was not that of a sane person, and that their diagnoses would have been the same prior to the crimes.

Scheele continued boring in to the 2 men's testimony to show the type of behavior which they described for Starkweather can be found in normal persons in moments of intense anger or during drunkenness. He also tried in vain to get either witness to put a single name to Starkweather's behavior pattern, but received only answers like Dr. Greenbaum's reply: "People are not black and white, and I can't pigeon-hole a person that simply."

O'Hearne explained that, "I don't think he (Starkweather) ever became a human being although he's walking around in a human body."

Anti-Vehicle Tax Petitions' Form Ruled Legal

Way Opened For Vote If Enough Names Are Valid

By Virgil Falloon

The way for a popular vote on Lincoln's city vehicle tax was opened Monday by a legal opinion—if the initiative petitions, now being counted, have sufficient signatures.

City Atty. Ralph Nelson informed the Council that it has legal authorization to submit the initiative-proposed ordinance repealing the street improvement levy to a vote of the people.

The petitions, Nelson said, "are generally correct as to form."

A "qualified voter" count of the petitions containing 5,092 signatures was started Monday, according to Election Commissioner Harold Gillett. Under charter provisions, the petitions must contain 2,580 valid signatures to be sufficient.

Gillett estimated his staff would require about 10 days to complete the check. The count had been delayed by the primary election work.

In his written opinion, Nelson cited an Ohio court decision that held that municipal electors may enact a measure repealing legislation previously passed by the city

RONALD COLMAN ... had lung infection

Ronald Colman Is Dead

... STAR OF STAGE, SCREEN AND RADIO-TV WAS 67

Santa Barbara, Calif. (P)—Ronald Colman, whose gentlemanly manner set the standard for class on the screen, died of a lung infection Monday at 67.

His wife and co-star, Benita Hume, was at his bedside when he died at 5 a.m. at St. Francis Hospital. He had gone there Sunday morning, suffering a virus lung infection. His health had been delicate since a lung operation a year ago.

Few in Hollywood knew of his illness. He had retired from filmtown glamor to lead the gentle life of an English squire at his ranch near Santa Barbara.

Jack Benny, on whose radio and TV shows the Colmans often appeared, expressed Hollywood's shock: "I am deeply saddened at the news of Ronald Colman's death. He was a great actor, a great gentleman and a great friend."

fortable talking about himself in interviews.

The climax of his film career came 10 years ago when he won the Academy award as the Shakespearean-turned-murderer in "A Double Life." Strangely, that seemed to send him into a decline.

Last year, while playing in the episodic "Story of Man-Kind," he touched upon why his film career had been inactive. Citing the violence of realistic postwar movies, he signed, "They don't seem to make the kind of pictures I used to do."

New Obscene Literature Law Appears ... For 1st Reading

A new Lincoln ordinance covering obscene literature was introduced Monday before the City Council.

City Atty. Ralph Nelson said the ordinance clears up the legal defects in the 1936 law recently found unconstitutional by the Nebraska Supreme Court.

Public hearing and final reading will be June 2.

Public Works Director D. L. Erickson reported that plans and specifications on resurfacing of 10th between N to R have been filed with the state.

council, so long as the subject matter of the initiative ordinance is within the powers of the municipality to control by legislative procedures.

He said the Lincoln charter "does not restrict the right of the people in the nature of the ordinance to be proposed by initiative petition."

"On the basis of the Ohio decision and the language of the (Lincoln) charter," Nelson said it was his opinion "that the Council would have authorization to submit the ordinance to a vote of the people, if the petition otherwise meets charter requirements."

Nelson's opinion favored the Ohio decision over an Oklahoma case which held to the contrary. The Oklahoma jurisdiction said municipal electors cannot repeal a law by initiative procedures except as necessary for the adoption of an amendment or a new law.

Once Every 2 Years

Nelson said the proposed initiative measure, either in form or essential substance, cannot be submitted to a vote of the people often than once in two years.

Under initiative procedures, the Council must enact the proposed ordinance repealing the street improvement levy or submit the proposal to a vote at the next election, which would be in November.

No Council action was taken on Nelson's opinion, but further steps will await the signature count by the election commissioner.

'HIT BALL HARDER' RECESSION ANSWER FROM CONOCO OFFICIAL

"We've got to hit the ball harder," Andy Tarkington, senior vice president, head of the Financial and Comptroller Department of the Continental Oil Co., of Houston, Tex., said in Lincoln Monday.

Commenting on the recession, Tarkington called for a renewal of confidence as a positive step in ending the recession.

"An all out selling campaign would help," he said. "We've been in a postwar period of too much expansion and were just going through a normal adjustment," he said.

"When the recession will end is the $64,000 question," he added.

Harry J. Kennedy, senior vice president, head of the Industrial and Public Relations Dept. of Conoco, believed a "heads up" selling effort would help end the recession. "If people would buy more and take longer vacations it would also help," he said.

Tarkington and Kennedy both attended an operation-information meeting of Iowa and Nebraska Conoco representatives Monday.

Rites Wednesday

Public funeral services were set for Wednesday afternoon at the All Saints by the Sea Episcopal Church.

Colman remained a star for 35 years, probably a record in the movie business. He drew star billing from the moment he appeared with Lillian Gish in "The White Sister" in 1923 until he made his final film, "The Story of Man-Kind," last year.

Handsome, polished, intelligent, an inner glow of optimism and good will—these were the qualities that contributed to his durability. His clipped, nasal, articulate voice helped him bridge the gap from silent films to sound and became his trade mark.

Above all, he was a gentleman. But he could be a man of action, too. . . the idealist adventurer of "Lost Horizon" . . . the dashing Legionnaire of "Beau Geste" . . . the rogue villain of "If I Were King" . . . the swashbuckling hero of "The Prisoner of Zenda."

Lived Quietly

His greatest hits were in such costume adventures, yet Colman's own life was the opposite of those roles. He lived quietly and seemed uncom-

OD Charged With Death Of Nebraskan ... Denies Abortion

Kansas City (P)—An osteopath Monday was charged with manslaughter by abortion in the death of a 21-year-old Nebraskan woman.

Dr. Harry Werbin, 51, orally denied the charge. He was released on $5,000 bond, and is scheduled to appear June 10 before Magistrate Louise J. Mazuch for preliminary hearing.

Police said Miss Janice Easterbrook of Arcadia, Neb., was dead on arrival at a hospital here Sunday.

Hemorrhaging

Dr. Werbin said the woman was hemorrhaging when she went to him and apparently an abortion already had been performed, police related.

Officers said Miss Easterbrook arrived here last Wednesday and stayed at a motel with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Easterbrook of Arcadia.

Cardinal Stritch Has Last Rites

... After Stroke

Rome (P)—Samuel Cardinal Stritch was felled by a stroke Monday and he received last rites of the Roman Catholic Church Monday night for the second time in 3 weeks.

A blood clot in the brain impeded the speech and partly paralyzed the right side of the 70-year-old American prelate.

His right arm was amputated April 28 to check the threat of gangrene arising from another blood clot.

The cardinal received extreme unction also before that operation.

There was a question in Roman Catholic circles as to whether the last rites should be given again after Cardinal Stritch suffered the stroke early Monday.

A priest explained the sacrament cannot be received twice for the same illness. He said it was decided to administer the rites because the cardinal had been recovering from his first illness, but now "for the second time is in danger of death."

'Insulin Most Preferred For Diabetics' ... Dr. Hervert Says

Insulin is still by far the drug physicians prefer in the treatment of diabetes, Dr. J. William Hervert said in a talk before the Inter-Professional Institute.

Speaking on the topic, "Oral Treatment of Diabetes," Dr. Hervert emphasized that there is "no cure for diabetes."

As for oral treatment, the several chemical combinations of sulfonureas (oral drugs) are still in the experimental stages, and the profession looks upon their use in diabetes treatment with a "great deal of skepticism."

'Not For Young'

"These," he said, "are not to be used in treatment of children and young diabetics, and are most useful in the treatment of diabetics over 45."

In summarizing, he cautioned:

(1) These new drugs are not to be referred to as "anti-diabetic drugs."

(2) They are not useful in the treatment of diabetic comas.

Some U.S. Industrial Leaders Prescribe 3-Step Cure For Recession

Slash Costs, Hold Prices, Urge Sales

New York (AP)—Some of the nation's industrial leaders prescribed a 3-step cure for the recession — cut costs, hold prices down and get back to old-fashioned selling.

Harry A. Bullis, board chairman of General Mills Inc., Minneapolis, Minn., told 2,000 businessmen attending an Economic Stabilization Conference, "the consumer is price conscious. Prices must be within the realm of what consumers are willing and able to pay."

Cloud Wampler, chairman of Carrier Corp., Syracuse, N.Y., air conditioning manufacturer, said "we're shooting for the lower selling prices that will broaden our market."

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks challenged industry to carry the major load in bringing about business recovery. Weeks, in the opening address of the conference, declared "irrespective of government's role in the economy, the star is business. For the chief business of private industry is to make private industry succeed."

80½ Million
As regards employment and production, he said the United States should have 80½ million persons employed and a 600-billion dollar annual production rate within 10 years. The yearly total of goods and services now amounts to 416 billion dollars.

On taxes, Weeks gave no hint of whether the administration will recommend tax reduction to stimulate public purchasing power, or what other steps may be taken.

Thomas J. Watson Jr., president of International Business Machines Corp., said industry may face more and greater government controls, unless the ups and downs in business are moderated.

He said "business executives are going to have to learn how to manage their business so as to make recessions few and far between . . . if we are unable to do this, I'm confident that the voters of the country through the government will impose on our business community greater and greater controls."

More Building

Washington (AP)—Leon Keyserling, who served as an economic adviser in the Truman administration, urged Congress to aim at doubling the present rate of private residential construction.

His plan would cost the government billions, he told a Senate banking committee, but would make a substantial contribution to the nation's economic growth.

Doubling the rate would mean averaging close to 2 million new housing starts a year between now and 1964, Keyserling testified.

He said total national production, now running at an annual rate of about 422 billion dollars, must be raised by at least 45 billion in 1959 if the country is to put its jobless back to work and resume a prosperous growth.

Sales Executives Are Told To Get Salesmen On Ball

Washington (AP)—Some 1,500 sales executives were told at a "recession busting" conference that salesmen have grown fat and sassy during the postwar boom—so much so they've forgotten how to sell.

If companies would get their salesmen on the ball, said conference keynote Glenn R. Fouché, the current business recession would be just about licked.

Fouché is president of the National Sales Executives, Inc., sponsor of the 3-day International Distribution Conference. He also is vice president of Parade Publications, Inc.

In his speech and at a news conference later, Fouché said the problem of lazy selling is not the fault of salesmen but of their bosses.

Ride Trucks

"It's time top executives of our leading companies got out of their cars and started riding their trucks," he said.

Retailers, he added, should start shopping their own stores just as they have always sent shoppers into competing stores. He said they would then find out if their sales crews are lazy and discourteous or are doing an effective job.

Asked about such current promotions as the "You Auto Buy Now" campaign, Fouché said this is a shot in the arm technique and not the real answer to the problem.

Every salesman, he said, has got to be re-trained in person-to-person selling which he said died in the 1930's.

Cut Urged

Chicago (INS)—Four economic experts said a substantial temporary federal tax reduction would decide whether business activity rebounds to peak 1957 levels this year or by early next spring.

They asserted a reduction in federal taxes now would stimulate the nation's economy sufficiently to regain by the end of the year the ground lost in the current recession.

Wesleyan Gives Music Prof Leave

Robert L. Marshall, assistant professor of instrumental music at Nebraska Wesleyan University, has been granted a sabbatical leave for the 1958-59 school year.

Marshall will enroll at the University of Iowa to complete requirements for a Ph.D. Degree, with emphasis on music education.

Marshall becomes the 1st Wesleyan staff member to be granted a leave under a new program approved by the Wesleyan board of trustees at its February meeting in Grand Island.

Under terms of the program, designed to encourage staff members to secure their Ph.D. Degrees, each recipient agrees to give the equivalent of 5 years of teaching service to Wesleyan following his period of leave.

Marshall joined the Wesleyan staff as an assistant professor of instrumental music and director of bands in 1952.

Grand Larceny Draws Probation

Charles Conlee of 1427 L was placed on 2-year probation on a grand larceny charge by Lancaster District Judge Harry A. Spencer.

Conlee, 44, had pleaded guilty to the theft Mar. 26 of about $1,100 from the refrigerator of a Lincoln woman. Nearly $900 of the missing money was recovered from Conlee.

America's Dentist Supply Is Lagging

Indianapolis (AP)—The nation needs 2 new dental schools a year until 1975 to fill the shortage of dentists, U.S. Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said Monday.

Dr. Burney, who was formerly Indiana state health commissioner, told the Indiana State Dental Assn. the new schools would merely keep the dentist supply at the current ratio of 40 for each 100,000 persons. There were 58 per 100,000 in 1930.

He said 12 new medical schools will be needed by 1970 to keep the ratio of physicians at 130 per 100,000.

Wesleyan Honors Longtime College Prof

A Wesleyan University faculty member who has taught at the college level in Nebraska for 42 consecutive years, was honored at a Nebraska Wesleyan University faculty dinner here Monday night.

He is Roscoe Conklin Abbott, who has served as a visiting lecturer in chemistry at Prof. Abbott Wesleyan since 1954.

Abbott will be retired with emeritus status at the conclusion of this school year.

Dr. Walter French Jr., chairman of the division of natural sciences, spoke briefly in words of appreciation for Prof. Abbott's services, at the dinner meeting, last of the year for the Wesleyan faculty.

Abbott will be the only Wesleyan staff member to retire this year.

A native of Wood River and a graduate of the one-time Baptist college at Grand Island and the University of Nebraska, Mr. Abbott joined the staff of the University of Nebraska in 1916 and served in the chemistry department there until his retirement date in 1954. He was an associate professor at the time of his retirement.

He came to Wesleyan that fall as a visiting lecturer.

Mr. Abbott was married to the former Hazel Gooden in 1913. The Abbotts have two children, Mrs. Barbara W. Rader of Denver and Dr. Albert R. Abbott of Ames, Ia.

Of Things To Come

By WILLIAM O. DOBLER

If you think the dollar bill is slipping, you would be convinced of it after reading of the latest automatic vending machine invention. The device has gone clear beyond the realm of coins and into the world of folding money.

This new vending machine takes paper money and can spot a phony bill better than trained government experts. It can be adjusted to take any size bill and make the correct change. Because its inventor says no machine is 100 per cent foolproof, only $1, $5 and $10 bills will be used in the new machine. The inventor sees the day when buying groceries will be nothing more than inserting money into a machine which produces the product you want.

The trouble is, the machine demonstrates what has happened to prices. The poor little coin is almost something to sneer at any more. It buys only a fraction of what it used to and the penny is practically useless except for pricing in higher denominational areas.

The machine's inventor predicts that in the next three to five years, automatic vending will be bigger than the automobile business. He may be right but we hope we never see the day when a vending machine will be handling items in the price range of the automobile. When that day comes, today's nest egg will look like a kindergarten suit worn on your wedding day.

Sunday was a beautiful day and as such, a good time for a nice drive around the city. It was, also, a perfect day for the Marian Rally at Pinewood Bowl in Pioneers Park. The trouble was that the nice day brought out too many people.

It is doubtful if Pioneers Park ever drew a larger crowd for any single activity than the Marian Rally. Some 10,000 to 12,000 Catholics from Lincoln and other parts of the state turned out to take part in the religious services. There is no doubt that many people wondered what was going on about 6 p.m. Sunday.

Traffic on South St. from about 21st clear across 10th, past Gooch's Mill and on out to Pioneers was one gigantic mess. A solid line of cars stood bumper to bumper for that entire distance, traveling at a snail's pace.

The trip from 21st and South to the park took just about two full hours. We have never seen such a traffic jam before in our lives. Things move slowly now and then but in the Sunday line, one could have shopped along South and still maintained his place in the line.

The thought occurred that something like this might well happen if there was ever a real evacuation of Lincoln in the interest of national defense or self-preservation. Of course, in times of an emergency, the strain would be much greater and certainly confusion would reign in the midst of any such traffic snarl. Such confusion would promote irrational acts and many accidents which, in turn, would further complicate the situation. Perhaps two conclusions can be drawn from the Sunday event.

For one thing, we hope there never has to be an evacuation by automobile, as we fear it would be catastrophic. Secondly, there apparently is a great deal more interest in non-worldly things today than we give our civilization credit for. It seems as significant as it was impressive that such an event would draw the crowd that poured into Pioneers Park Sunday evening.

Lesson In Electrification

A few decades ago the rural areas were not considered a practical field for electrification. Now most farm regions are at least 90 per cent electrified under the REA. Electricity, perhaps, did more to revolutionize rural life than any one other factor.

It was interesting to learn recently from the U.S. Department of Agriculture that farm demand for more electricity seems to have no visible limit. Ten years ago the country was considered abundantly served by electricity. The average farm was using 171 kilowatts a month at the rate of 3.22 cents a kilowatt. A recent check-up shows that farms are now using an average of 414 kilowatts a month, paying less per kw, too—2.53 cents.

In short, agriculture is now buying more than $300 million worth of electricity a year. The economic value of that runs into a much greater figure because someone has to manufacture the things that use up the juice.

The impressive result of the REA movement points out the wisdom of national resources development, making the economy flower where once nothing grew. What happened in electricity has happened in irrigation, in flood control, in water-borne recreation and in reforestation. The public investment is no greater—most often greatly less, than tax cuts, employment subsidies. But resources development offers the great long range boon of a richer and more capacious economy while the other devices constitute paying for a dead horse. Now and then this country is perplexed by a temporary surplus of this or that, but in the long run no country ever went broke tapping new sources of riches.

Gov. Anderson Unique

Gov. Victor E. Anderson occupied a unique position at a conference of governors in Miami, Fla., over the week end. The governor was the only one of four heads of states on a panel discussion who was able to say that his state's legislature was responsive to all elements of the population.

It can also be noted that his state has the only non-partisan unicameral legislature. The governor did not attribute his praise of the legislature to this unique feature but such an inference might be drawn.

If the governor feels that the non-partisan and one-house features of our legislature do result in equal representation, he will probably not be too popular with other politicians of the state. Both political parties have vowed to change things and put the legislature back on a partisan or political basis.

We would not attempt to put Anderson down, from what he said, as either for or against the political move toward partisanship. We hope, however, that he has at least not yet been thoroughly sold on partisanship in the legislature.

Either setup has its advantages and disadvantages but it is hard to see where partisanship has any edge in the matter. In general, we feel the edge would go to non-partisanship and we can certainly see no advantage to changing back to the time-worn political practices of former years.

It is believed by many that loyalty to an area is more important than loyalty to a party on the state level and this loyalty can best be served by non-partisans. It would seem that voting according to convictions would be much more prevalent in the present legislature than in one in which party obligations dictated final decisions.

The PTA Has A Job

The national meeting of the Parents and Teachers Association is slated for this week at Omaha.

How potentially important is the meeting can best be described by noting some of the characteristics of the PTA. It was founded 61 years ago. That removes any doubt that it is a fly-by-night organization. It has 11 million members belonging to 12,000 local chapters. That testifies to its universality as well as to its grass roots nature. A third of its members are men, which removes it from the definition of a mothers' club. And, of course, it has a real interest in education because its members are parents of the children who go to school.

Without doubt the PTA has performed significant work in the past in the advancement of the educational cause, a good deal of it in the realm of selling communities on the idea of better physical plants and facilities. Its attitudes and presence also has tended to modify and apply the rigid doctrines emanating from professional education, somewhat in the manner a jury makes the law plastic enough to fit the society in detail.

All of this points up the hard fact that the PTA has a large and responsible role in the forthcoming changes that must be made in education; not so much the role of telling the teacher what to teach, but in delivering its own children to the school doorways in the right state of mind to play their full part in educational reform. American education can no longer be considered as a sumptuous banquet being prepared for or in honor of the young people, but rather a meal that has to be sketched by them as well as by the taxpayer. Certainly if the PTA is not prepared to deliver the children more keenly in that frame of mind most of the rest of it is going to be a waste of time and money.

Hopeful Outlook

A restrained and clear minded band of golf players, patently a minority group, filed articles of incorporation recently in behalf of the Nebraska State Golf Association. Its aim is to promote better golf in the state. We are unequivocally for that, and wildly curious as to how a corporation can achieve what 99 per cent of the state's players have been working at for years without result. Whether the corporation is going to get the job done with a secret ball that won't slice, or a machine gun for the refinement of the field of players is an incidental matter. It is early results that are wanted.

"Want Any More Arguments For Nuclear Control?"

DREW PEARSON

Adenauer Pattern For Italy's Party

ROME—When the late Premier Alcide De Gasperi, Amintore Fanfani and others organized the Christian Democratic party in the dim postwar days when Italy was emerging from Mussolini rule and Nazi occupation, they endeavored to put Christian principles to work in practical politics. On the whole, the Christian Democrats have done a remarkable job.

But, though they have publicly proclaimed separation of church and state, their critics maintain the Christian Democrats are directed from the Vatican and this has become the biggest issue in the forthcoming vitally important Italian election. To some extent, the future of the American alliance with Italy depends on this delicate, passionately debated issue.

Most Italians want to be christened by the church, married in church, and buried by the church, but on election day they want the church to stay out of politics.

This church-state issue has become so fiercely debated by some that the newspaper Espresso, founded by Prince Caracciolo, whose mother came from New Orleans and grandmother from Cincinnati, has built up a profitable circulation by following an anti-clerical editorial policy. Last year Espresso made a profit of 150,000,000 lire.

The church-state issue came to a head when Mauro Bellandi of Prato, a former Communist, published a civil notice of intent to marry. This meant that he would marry outside the church. Bellandi's priest, Rev. Danilo Aiazzi, then denounced him from the pulpit which is a routine procedure.

The bishop of Prato, the Most Rev. Pietro Fiordelli, went further and wrote a letter to the priest accusing Bellandi of "concupiscence." Ordinarily this would be read from the pulpit and posted on the church door, but in this case it was sent in the church paper through the mails. Simultaneously the local banks called in Bellandi's loans and he was forced to close his small business employing about 40 people.

This caused such anti-clerical reaction that a public fund was started in Bellandi's defense and two anticlerics underwrote his business for 500,000 lire. Bellandi brought a charge of criminal libel against the bishop. Shortly before the trial the presiding judge, a liberal, was promoted in what the Christian Democrats' political opponents claimed was an attempt by them to influence the outcome of the case.

In his place was appointed a strong member of the Christian Democratic party. At the final trial, however, he held with his two colleagues that the bishop was guilty of criminal defamation of character.

To get the view of the most authoritative political leader in Italy on this question, I visited Fanfani, secretary of the Christian Democratic party. Regardless of the church-state argument, my own observations here are that the Christian Democrats have done an amazing job of rebuilding Italy from a war-weary nation to one of the most progressive in all Europe.

Ohio Demos Feel Surge Of Unity

CLEVELAND—Ohio Democrats who a few years ago were holding their party together with chewing gum and string expect to put the picturesque Michael V. DiSalle into the statehouse this fall. They even think they may replace the veteran U.S. Senator John W. Bricker with former Rev. Stephen Young.

Objective observers calmly support this amazing reversal of form with an explanation which bears a close resemblance to the increasingly vocal complaints about the Eisenhower administration. It is comprised in one simple phrase: Lack of leadership.

Gov. C. William O'Neill, who beat DiSalle by 400,000 votes in 1956, is charged with vacillation, indecision and administrative incompetence. He has disappointed his own supporters worst of all and they showed it by casting a protest vote of nearly 200,000 for Charles P. Taft, brother of the late senator, who was only a token candidate. Taft failed to carry his own county, but he carried O'Neill's.

The governor has made a good recovery from a mild heart attack. Taft explained, however, that he filed as a stand-in, should O'Neill become disabled before the election.

The emphasis on leadership is being heard in every state. It suggests to incumbents of both parties that they are being judged by voters with a harshness of temper and clarity of political thought very different from the easy-going and optimistic mood of recent years.

The obvious Democratic danger is over-confidence. The hidden one is that despite the evident Democratic trend, all office holders in these troubled days are on the defensive, regardless of party.

Gov. O'Neill is clearly weaker than his state party. The story in Ohio is less one of Republican faction and feud than elsewhere. Senator Bricker is not harassed by division over the course the party ought to take, what he fears is that the weakness of the governor at the top of the ticket will drag him down.

Credit must go to the resilient DiSalle and other aggressive Democrats including the Cleveland mayor, Anthony J. Celebrezze, who began to fight strongly for party identity after Frank J. Lausche quit his long tenure of the governorship to become U.S. Senator. Democrat Lausche, very much in the Eisenhower pattern, blurred the edges of both controversy and party, often supported the late Senator Taft and depended upon Republican votes and money.

LA VERNA HASSLER

Patchwork Prairie Country

Blue Jeans has the mumps.

With more than a week of school left, he has worn that happy, satisfied smile that says, "Oh, goody! No more school for me!" At least he did wear it until I reminded him that it also meant he could not go to the school picnic the last day. The smile immediately turned upside-down and became a frown.

"Jeepers, why did I have to get the mumps now?" he asked in a very dejected tone of voice.

"You know you cannot have your cake and eat it, too," I reminded him.

"Are they going to have cake at the picnic — my favorite chocolate cake?" he inquired with much interest.

I then went into detail explaining what the phrase really meant, and he seemed somewhat relieved. He now gazes hungrily at the pickle jar with swollen jaws that seem to say "I dare you." Pickles are also classed among his favorite foods. I have learned that little boys' favorite foods are sometimes very unusual.

One year Blue Jeans and his friends went fishing. Included in their fishing supplies were homemade dough balls, a rather good-smelling mixture of oatmeal, cinnamon, water, flour and vanilla, rolled in two lopsided balls which the fish were supposed to relish. But instead of using their bait for fish, some of the miniature fishermen ate the dough balls themselves.

A swarm of sea gulls screamed back and forth behind the plow this morning as The Farmer turned the furrows. They were as agile as shooting darts rising and falling in unison as they searched for grubs and other choice wriggling food. The black earth fell into crumbling, rippling folds, sweet-smelling and moist and black.

There was a time when I followed behind the plow and gulls, barefoot and excited with childish anticipation. That was the time when a plow was pulled by five frisky mules and ten pairs of ears. The ears were the last to be seen going over the hill and the first to bob into view as they reached the crest on their return. Always there were the gulls with their plaintive cry, circling overhead, then skimming earthward to alight for one fleeting moment. Then like a fleeting moment that has passed too quickly, they were gone, leaving only a vision of silver wings against the sun.

The temptation was great this morning to kick off my shoes and feel the cool, mellow earth beneath my feet. But matronly pride made me decide otherwise. Instead of wiggling my toes in the soft spongy soil, I left them to suffer within the confines of my shoes — corns, bunions and all.

The tulips are a riot of color and when they bloom I think surely there is nothing as beautiful as a tulip bed in spring. But then when the peonies open into full-blown loveliness, I think the same thing — that is, until the iris bloom. Come June and the roses — absolutely unequalled for beauty and fragrance. On and on it goes around the calendar until the jonquils open in golden splendor in April.

I planted nasturtiums throughout the tulip bed and hope by the time the tulip foliage has died back, the nasturtiums will add a spot of beauty. While I was in a planting mood, I scattered red morning-glory seeds along the picket fence. There remains a peony root and lilac bush to be set into the soil before my spring planting has been completed.

It's not the planting that takes the maximum of labor — it's caring for the things after they have been planted that puts the blisters on the hands. I suppose it is the vision of what will blossom from the plants that prevents the task of caring for them from becoming a drudgery. Someone once said a vision without task is only a dream. With a spade in one hand and a hoe in the other, I have no illusions.

Persuasion Abroad Must Have Backing

NEW YORK—Former ambassador to Japan Joseph C. Grew, foremost spokesman against the admission of Red China to UN, says:

"One of our major objectives is to convince our allies of the tremendous dangers of building up the potential military might of international Communism through trade. Our arguments have no validity whatsoever unless we are prepared to back them up with alternatives. If we convince our friends not to trade with the Communist world then we must, in all logic and honesty, permit them to ease part of the ensuing economic burdens through trade with us. In some instances, such trade may mean relatively minor sacrifices on the part of some sections of our economy . . . small price to pay when compared to relatively major sacrifices made by other nations through their refusal to trade with Communists."

San Francisco's Benny Bufano, unofficial U.S. delegate to Moscow's 40th anniversary sary celebrations of the Bolshevik revolution, did not design the Buffalo nickel—as reported here three years ago and recently on the coast.

The designer was James Earle Fraser. In 1931, the late Mr. Fraser, whose widow is a distinguished sculptor living in Westport, Conn., wrote the Commissioner of Indian Affairs that the Indian on the nickel was inspired by three braves, Irontail, Two Moons, and a man whose name he could not recall. Bufano has done some fine work, but not the nickel, a largely eclipsed coin whose one-time renown is recognized only by the Staten Island ferry.

The next big world health assault will be against leprosy . . . louse that is, I still wish we were exhibiting Chaplin's American-made "City Lights" among our great film achievements at the Brussels fair. It's probably the greatest picture ever made in this country . . . a major safety razor company will add a fish hook and kit to its Father's Day package—craftily recalling the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service estimates that 20,000,000 fishermen, using 14,000,000 assorted hooks, will catch half a billion pounds of fish this year.

People . . . Places . . . Things

Secretary Dulles told a closed-session of a Senate committee: "The disorders would never have taken place against Nixon in Caracas under Jimenez (deposed dictator now enjoying political asylum in U.S.). He had a first-class police department. When he was forced out, so were they. The Junta hasn't been able to put a good one together as yet."

One of baseball's most enchanting characters since he broke into the cartel on horsehide in 1910 has been Charles Dillon Stengel. At last Casey, has been dealt with properly in a book, "Casey Stengel," by Frank Graham, Jr., published by John Day company. It's Casey in single-talk. No Sanskrit "trot" is needed to read it.

No Need To Fear

Curtis, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: According to The Star, the Russians have accomplished a great wonder in sending up the great Sputnik 1,200 miles into space. And it is evident they had to use nearly 10 million tons of energy to accomplish this.

There is a statement in the Bible that forecasts this and even greater events. It reads: "And he doeth great signs, that he should even make fire to come down out of heaven upon the earth in the sight of men."

This verse almost certainly refers to Russia and we may well expect even greater developments. These events are intended to deceive and will deceive many. The best answer to this is: "Let not your hearts be troubled." The earth is the Lord's and His believers need not fear.

CHARLES R. HERRICK

It Took Both

Hastings, Neb. To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Just recently the daily press informed us that Kansas legislature had passed a three cent sales tax over the governor's veto. It now has both a property tax and a three cent retail sales tax.

What will Nebraska do with a two cent sales tax and no property tax?

If a Kansas state government cannot exist without such a raid on the taxpayer, how can the Nebraska state government exist on a two cent sales tax alone? Must we abolish all state activities and close the doors of the capitol, leaving it only as a relic of bygone days? Or must we have a five cent retail sales tax?

The young farmer who must invest $5,000 in machinery will gnash his teeth at having to pay a $250 tax. The retail sales tax is aimed at him and the working class in the cities. It is to be a log chain around their necks.

Ammon School Board President

By Virgil Falloon
Robert Ammon was elected president of the Lincoln School Board at its annual organization meeting Monday, succeeding Glenn Yaussi.
The board also unanimously named Robert C. Venner as vice president.
Ammon had served as vice president since 1957.
He was appointed to the school board in 1955 to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Richard A. Jay.
Highest Vote
In 1957, Ammon was elected to a 4-year term, rolling up the highest vote count in the April city primary and the second high mark in the May election.
In other action, Supt. Steve Watkins reported that Lois W. Schwab, Lincoln High School teacher, has been selected to participate in the International Education Exchange Program under the Fulbright Act.
Mrs. May Crawford of Fentham Road Secondary Modern School at Erdington, England, will come to Lincoln as Miss Schwab's exchange.
A request that the name of the College View Elementary school be changed was referred to the architectural committee for study.
The College View Parent

and Teachers Assn. made the request because of resulting confusion with a church-supported school in the same area.

Suggested names were Calvert, Southeast Hills, Southeast Elementary and Emerson.

Dr. Watkins informed the board that Union College officials are also considering a change in name of their elementary school, but no decision is expected until next fall.

No action was taken on the proposed finishing of the basement room at Southeast High School as a students' lounge. The estimated cost of $5,400 was discussed and compared to the need for additional classrooms in other city schools.

Decision was deferred until the board's next meeting on May 27 when a lesser project could be reported upon.
Dr. Watkins reported bids

City Reading Improvement Needs Listed

on the General Arnold Elementary School at the Lincoln Air Force Base are to be received May 29.
He said the necessary lease has not yet been received from Washington and efforts are being made to clear up the matter. These technicalities might delay the school construction if not cleared up soon, he added.

Decline Purchase

In other action, the board declined to purchase a 206-by-190-foot tract adjoining the southwest part of the Bryan School grounds.

Members termed the present playground adequate now and for future school growth. J. Paul Kysar, local realtor, offered the tract for $5,000.

Permission was granted for 4 school personnel to become University of Nebraska Summer School faculty members.

They are Mrs. Loretta Mickle, Pershing School principal; William Bogar, Lincoln High principal; Dr. R. L. Fredstrom, assistant superintendent; Dr. Archie McPherran, Southeast High principal, and Dr. Watkins, superintendent.

More Class Variety Set For Summer

Lincoln's summer school classes for senior and junior high school students are to be expanded to typing, clothing, crafts, auto mechanics, swimming and physical education.

The School Board approved the expanded plan which in the past was limited to instrumental and vocal music.

Purpose of offering these daily courses from June 9 to July 18 is to eliminate conflicts during the school year and allow more regular time for the so-called "academic" courses.

All classes, except auto mechanics just at Lincoln High, will be offered at Lincoln High, Southeast High and Northeast High.

Clothing and mechanics will be $20 per course, while the other classes will be $10 per subject, Watkins said.

The course offers will be subject to justified enrollments in the various sections, he added.

City Reading Improvement Needs Listed

Edith Pembroke, Lincoln Schools Reading co-ordinator, said that Lincoln schools have 1 of the 3 major points necessary for a better reading education.

Miss Pembroke, upon returning from the 3rd annual conference of the International Reading Assn. in Milwaukee, said the 3 points presented at the conference were:
1. An ungraded primary plan.
2. Good elementary libraries with librarians.
3. Continuation of developmental reading through the 12 grade.

Miss Pembroke said, however, that Lincoln schools have only the 1st point. The ungraded primary plan is being tried on an experimental basis at Pershing School this year. It includes 1st, 2nd and 3rd grade classes in which pupils learn to read, spell and work with numbers at their own rates.

Lincoln's elementary schools have library programs, Miss Pembroke said, but they are inadequate on the $15 per teacher annually allotted for books. No elementary school has a trained librarian.

STAFF CHANGES APPROVED

The Daily Nebraskan, University of Nebraska student newspaper, announced changes Monday which call for elimination of the editorial

The announcement came after the changes were approved by the Subcommittee on Student Publications.

The elimination of these 2 positions will enable 4 paid staff writers to be added to the staff, the most experienced of whom will hold the title of senior staff writer, the Nebraskan said.

The position of the senior staff writer with be on an equal basis with the Managing Editor. Both will receive $65 a month.

The 3 remaining writers will all receive $35 per month. In addition, the Nebraskan editor will receive a $20 hike in salary to $85 per month.

The changes will go into effect beginning this fall.

LHS Expels 2 Youths For 'Protection'

The School Board confirmed the administration's expulsion of 2 Lincoln High students, reportedly involved in a "protection money" incident, for the remainder of the school year.

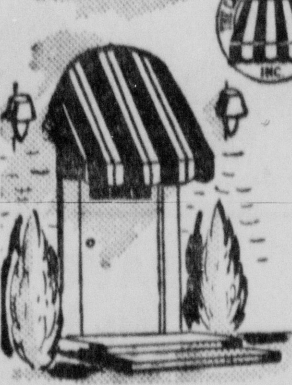

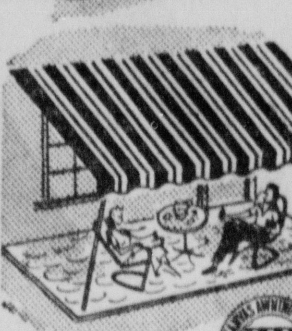

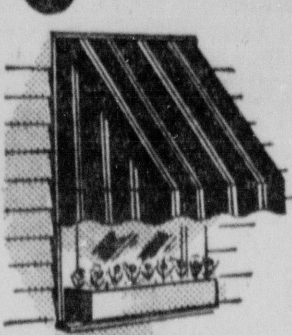

They are Ben Delgado, 17, junior, and Lanny Willett, 16, junior.

Dr. Steven Watkins said the youths were dismissed May 2 in connection with demanding and accepting money from other youths for assurance of personal safety.

Lebanon Bombings Cause Heavy Casualties

Tuesday, May 20, 1953 The Lincoln Star 7

Waning Strike Is Spurred

Beirut, Lebanon (AP)—Bombs wrecked 3 outdoor markets and left heavy casualties Monday, reviving a 10-day-old general strike that had begun to wane.

Opposition leader Saeb Alam declared the strike will continue until pro-Western President Camille Chamoun resigns.

A large number of casualties were reported when bombs exploded in 2 crowded vegetable markets opened by dealers in defiance of the strike. Security forces quickly moved into the area and made about 150 arrests. Another bomb rocked a clothing bazaar behind the Municipal Building.

Hit-and-Run Tactics

Gangs in automobiles patrolled the streets, firing shots above shops that opened. Security forces kept mobs from forming but were unable to cope with the hit-and-run tactics of small bands.

The terrorism had the desired effect on most of the people. Bazaars emptied immediately and shops closed.

In most of the city the strike was more effective than at any time in the past 3 days. The public was beginning to feel the pinch.

Tripoli, where heavy fighting had been under way for several days, was reported quiet. At least 60 people were killed in riots there over the weekend.

Maan Karami denied reports that his brother Rashid, Tripoli's top opposition leader, had been arrested. He said by telephone that the city was quiet again. Rashid Karami reportedly ordered an end to fighting in Tripoli when government forces stormed in and regained control of the city.

Florence Adams Heads Nebraska DAV Auxiliary

Florence Adams of Fremont was elected state department commander of the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary at the convention in Hastings.

Other officers elected were Mildred Tanner of Hastings, senior vice commander; Leah Beneke of Columbus, junior vice commander; Evelyn Letson of Red Cloud, treasurer; Maxine Villont of Omaha, adjutant; Bessie Schultz of Hastings, chaplain; Marie Chadd of Lincoln, sergeant-at-arms; Georgia Pascoe of Fremont, conductress; and Helen Williams of Lincoln, assistant conductress.

Out-going state department commander is Frances Harmon of Omaha.

Doctors Testify For Defense

Prosecution To Call Three

STUDENT DIES IN PANAMA RIOTS

Panama (AP)—A student demonstration for changes in school affairs blazed up into riots Monday.

A youth was killed and several persons were injured in clashes between demonstrators and National Guardsmen. The guardsmen, a target of clubs and stones, finally broke up the mobs with shots fired in the air and tear gas. Store windows were smashed, automobiles were overturned.

the "impulse to the act" example as reflecting Starkweather's behavior, with no in between stage of thinking of the consequences of his act.

Both doctors stood firm under lengthy cross examination by Scheele in their opinions that Starkweather did not have the ability to premeditate at the time of Jensen death (apparently because of the "stress" of the other crimes which he had committed).

Scheele tried to pin down both Dr. Greenbaum and Dr. O'Hearne on just what type of mental illness Starkweather allegedly suffers from. But both said he has many abnormal symptoms which when added together do not fit any specified "label."

Both doctors testified they could have recognized that Starkweather was "dangerously ill" if they had examined him before any of the killings which he has admitted occurred. Dr. O'Hearne said if he had examined Starkweather 2 years ago he would have recognized Starkweather as a "dangerous person who almost certainly would injure himself and others and should be committed."

Dr. Greenbaum said he would have "done everything in my power to see that he (Starkweather) was committed" if he had examined him previous to his having committed any crime.

Both doctors examined Starkweather at the Penitentiary Apr. 9, and also on Sunday night.

7 Tests

Dr. Greenbaum said he gave Starkweather 7 tests during the April examination, which lasted 8½ hours. These ranged, he said, from an intelligence quotient (IQ) test to an "ink blot" test, where Starkweather was asked to tell what ink blots on 10 different cards appeared to be.

Starkweather scored a 97 on the IQ test (90-110 is average).

Virginia Is Nudged Nearer School Closing Showdown

... BY RULING OF SUPREME COURT

Washington (AP)—The Supreme Court Monday nudged Virginia a big step nearer a showdown on its policy calling for closing of public schools rather than desegregating them.

Without comment, the court rejected a last-ditch effort by Virginia to stave off an order for admission of 7 Negroes to white schools in Arlington County, just across the Potomac River from the national capital.

In Miami Beach, Fla., where he is attending the annual governors conference, Gov. J. Lindsay Almond said: "I see no change in the situation in Virginia. We have state laws which we believe to be intact and they will be applied in an honest effort to save public education from the chaos which these decisions would impose upon it."

By refusing to hear the case, the high court left the way open for enforcement of the order issued by U.S. District Judge Albert V. Bryan of Alexandria.

Judge Bryant's order called for admission of the 7 Negroes at the beginning of the school term last fall, but he held up its effectiveness pending appeals. The U.S. Court of Appeals in Richmond last Feb. 12 upheld Bryant.

The Supreme Court's action apparently left Virginia with only one more legal move available — to ask the high court to reconsider its action. The time limit for such a plea is 25 days.

Of 5 desegregation cases involving Virginia, the Arlington case may provide the first showdown on Virginia's various segregation laws.

Call For Closing Schools

Virginia laws call for closing of public schools wherever integration takes place. And if schools are reopened on a desegregated basis, state aid is to be cut off.

America knows its bourbon and its favorite is Old Crow

Light, mild 86 proof Old Crow by far outsells any bourbon in the land

Why does one bourbon outsell every other bourbon in the country? The answer is: Americans know their bourbon. They always have. A century ago, Daniel Webster flatly called Old Crow... "the finest in the world."

Webster, Henry Clay, Mark Twain — giants of history — all prized Old Crow. Today their number is multiplied by the millions. The lightness, mildness and incomparable flavor of 86 Proof Old Crow truly make it "the finest Kentucky whiskey ever put into glass!"

Is Your Property In Joint Names?

If you are married, having your estate in joint names may seem an easy way to dispose of it, but generally creates more problems than it solves. $60,000 is exempt from Federal Estate Tax. If your estate exceeds that amount, having it in joint names will increase the taxes upon the death of the surviving owner as compared with more economical arrangements available to you.

For example, suppose your estate amounts to $140,000, is in joint names, and that your wife survives you. Joint property "qualifies for the Marital Deduction", so at your death the estate would be cut in half for tax purposes. The taxable estate would be $70,000 and the Federal Estate Tax would be only $500. But at your wife's death the taxable estate would be $139,500 on which the tax is $14,960.

Taxwise, it would be much better to have the estate in the husband's name alone, with his will creating two separate trusts, each of approximately one-half of the estate, for his wife. One trust would "qualify for the Marital Deduction" by providing that the wife receive the income for life and that in her own will she have power to dispose of the principal. From the other trust she would also receive the life income. At her death the disposition of principal would be governed, not by her will but by the husband's, thus preventing this trust from being taxed again in the wife's estate. Thus the Federal Estate Tax at the wife's death would be cut from $14,960 to $500.

Having your estate in your own name and leaving it outright to your wife has the same tax cost as the example just given. But having your estate in your own name and having your will provide the two trusts would reduce tax shrinkage if your estate exceeds $60,000.

Even more important than the tax savings is the fact that leaving your estate in trust provides experienced management to conserve what you have labored long and hard to provide for your family.

Under a properly drawn will leaving your estate in trust, you can provide all the advantages of outright ownership plus the investment protection and tax economies that only the use of trusts can provide.

Sen. Hruska: 'Nixon Welcome Most Thrilling'

The recent return of Vice President and Mrs. Richard Nixon to Washington from their South American tour was described Monday by Sen. Roman Hruska as "the most thrilling experience I've had since I've been in Washington."

Power Tax Ballot Spot Is Assured

More than 60,000 valid signatures were found Monday by the Secretary of State's office on the petitions presented by Consumers and Omaha Public Power Districts for a constitutional amendment on the districts' tax payments thus ensuring the proposal a spot on the November ballot.

Roland Luedtke, deputy secretary of state, said signatures were approved in 38 counties for governor in the last general election.

Next step, Luedtke said, is to request a ballot title from Attorney General C. S. Beck. The constitutional amendment sought would legalize the power firms' payments in lieu of taxes and would permit them to increase the payments to 5% of the gross revenue from the sale of electricity in incorporated cities and villages.

The tax payments would be made to the various taxing bodies, including cities and villages, school districts, state and county governments.

Constitutionality of the in-lieu-of-tax payments is now being tested in Scotts Bluff District Court in a suit brought by Sen. Terry Carpenter.

This was the first of 4 constitutional amendment petition drives to obtain the necessary 56,794 valid signatures. The others would legalize bingo, provide for enactment of a broadened tax base, and make the state commissioner of education an elective post.

a display of bravery and courage as that shown by the Nixons in South America."

Nebraska's senior senator turned thumbs down on a recent comment by National Democratic Chairman Paul Butler that Nixon's visit was designed to keep the Vice President's name on Page 1, and declared such views "show the degraded and depraved character of that man himself."

The demonstration against the Nixons was "Communist-inspired and engineered," Hruska declared, stating that the "most hopeful feature" of the Nixons' welcome to Washington was the display that "America does know the real meaning of the Communist movement—that it is not a political party—but is designed to take over the free world at the first opportunity."

'Be Grateful'
On other matters concerning world peace, Sen. Hruska reviewed the recent NATO meeting at Copenhagen and stated, "Let us be grateful the original view of Eisenhower and Dulles (on a summit conference) has been accepted."

Noting that many others disagreed with the President and his secretary of state when they urged "going slow" on the summit conference called for last fall by Russia, Hruska said their "go slow" attitude has now been "fully vindicated" in light of recent Russian tactics.

On the economic front, Sen. Hruska said if a tax cut is necessary, it should be effected in those areas of taxation "which need correction."

Martin Heads Group
Leslie Martin of Omaha was named president of the Nebraska League of Savings and Loan Associations at its business meeting, succeeding Jean B. Cain of Falls City.

Marvin Westland of Fremont was named 1st vice president; Stan Deines of Cozad was elected 2nd vice president; Ed Kutlik of Omaha was named treasurer, and Dean Kratz of Omaha, re-elected secretary.

Lad Tesar of Omaha and Willis Herman of Scottsbluff were elected to the board of directors.

In morning business, the group's legislative committee studied plans to acquaint legislators with the aims of the organization. No definite program was established by the group.

Stanton Delaplane's POSTCARD

Tomorrow we honor the silkworm. The weather is somber. A gray silk sky. A weeping rain during the Tokyo night.

All objects have spirits to be appeased. And tomorrow, at A sakusa K wannon Temple, we speak for the silk worms who spun and died. Yesterday I was measured for two Fuji silk shirts. Hail and farewell silkworms who made my shirts.

The other day we had Broken Needle Day. We set up little altars of three steps. All the needles broken during the year were set on the altar. Stuck in soft bean curd to give them a soft rest. We put cake and fruit on the step above them.

Next month we will have a Buddhist ceremony for the eels that have been eaten. And about the same time, there will be services at Teikoku Primary School for broken dolls. We bury broken dolls in the Broken Doll grave.

Everything we use is remembered and recommended to Heaven.

Lost and Found Department: Police Chief Tatsuo Yoshitake parked his car as usual in front of Marunouchi Police Station. While the Chief was inside hustling burglars, some enterprising boy clouted his car.

The Chief's face was very red. Or that is what we would say. But in Japan, he lost face—I guess you could not say exactly what color a lost face is.

Anyway, the Chief issued a public apology to the citizens of Tokyo.

The car is still missing. But face has been restored. A public apology covers everything. From losing your car to manslaughter. It is about the nicest thing you can do and is very impressive.

When our streetcar is stopped by a red light, the conductor calls out a public apology.

He assures us the delay is temporary.

I must be very careful with my face and never lose it. If I break custom in my Japanese hotel, I lose face. So does my maid. So does the owner. Everyone connected with me.

Face is easier to lose than your glasses.

Sports Department: The Asian Games are coming up—a sort of Far East Olympics.

"Police have been alerted to keep an eye on teen-age girls," says the morning sports page. "At the Dai Ichi Hotel where athletes will be quartered, interviews will be permitted only in the main lobby."

"Girls definitely will not be allowed to visit athletes in their rooms. Police fear that such visits might cause misunderstanding on the part of foreigners."

Weather: Cloudy. Occasional rain. Wind, west. The bamboo in our garden is dripping and rain has beat a little puddle of plum blossoms under each tree.

Buses packed with country students park thickly near the gray stone Imperial moat. Rosy-cheeked country girls with round melon faces. Black bangs and two black pigtails. Schoolboys dressed in shapeless black uniforms.

The groups rush from spot to spot. Line up and have their pictures taken. Then they rush to another spot and repeat. Fuji Film Co. is making plenty yen this month.

Dr. Shichiro Ueno addressed the Society of Ear, Nose and Throat Specialists.

Mah-Jongg, he said, is the greatest threat to Japanese hearing. He studied 20 people who habitually play the tiles all night.

We Hear That

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kline announce the birth of a son on Monday, May 12, at Lincoln General Hospital. Mrs. Kline is the former Ann Crosby, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Crosby of North Platte. The paternal grandparents are Dr. and Mrs. Barton Kline of Chadron.

Word has been received in Lincoln of the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald B. Madison of Oakland, Calif., on Saturday, May 3. Mrs. Madison will be remembered as the former Mary Margaret McKeone, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John F. McKeone of Lincoln and a Sigma Kappa at the University of Nebraska. The baby's paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. William B. Madison of Shaker Heights, O. Mrs. McKeone left Lincoln last Sunday for Oakland to visit her son-in-law and daughter and new grandson.

Mrs. Evalena Snipes left Lincoln Thursday to attend the American Institute of Decorators conference in Boston, Mass. During the conference, which will be held at the Sheraton Plaza Hotel, the group will tour notable homes in the area. Mrs. Snipes will serve as representative for the Nebraska-Iowa chapter of the AID.

Dear Abby . . .

Just Another GI

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I want to ask you to please ask your readers what they think about Elvis Presley going into the Army and not expecting any special privileges just because he is Elvis Presley? You will notice that when they cut all his beautiful hair off he didn't say a word. That ought to prove to those people who said he looked like a "hood" that they were wrong. I hope the other boys in the Army don't make it tough for him just because he is so famous. Thank you.

ELVIS PRESLEY FAN CLUB
DEAR CLUB: Don't worry about Elvis. He'll get a fair "shake."

DEAR ABBY: After having six boys, we had a baby girl. She was born on St. Patrick's Day and my husband got drunk and carried on for six days. Our little red-haired, blue-eyed girl is almost four years old now, and she is so spoiled she acts like she is the only child in the house. My husband lets her sleep with us (in the middle) and there is no getting her to sleep in her own little bed. She throws herself around in bed and I get up and sleep on the couch. She absolutely refuses to sleep anywhere else and I can't do a thing with her. Can you please tell me what to do?

A. O. B.
DEAR MRS. O'B.: Stop using the couch at night or you'll be needing one during the daytime, too. Make it plain that this child MUST sleep in her own bed—alone—and no nonsense. As long as she knows she can win out, she will not budge.

DEAR ABBY: I could have kissed the words on the paper when you said the adopted child was "wanted twice." First by the real mother, and again by the adopted mother. I was an unwed mother and I gave up my child because I knew she would have a better chance in life if I did. The lawyer told me when I signed my baby girl away that my kind of mother love was the highest and most unselfish love in the world because I gave away my flesh and blood for HER own good. Not mine. Those words have kept me going for sixteen years, Abby. The adopted child IS wanted twice, all right. I will tell the world from my own experience.

UNWED MOTHER

DEAR ABBY: The lady who has trouble getting her husband up to go to work in the morning might try MY "last resort" method. I take a tray of ice cubes direct from the refrigerator and place it gently on his bare abdomen. It works wonders at our house. Of course, we don't speak for several hours, but at least he gets up.

MRS. H. A. H.
DEAR MRS. H.: Your method is pretty cold-hearted. There must be an easier way to "break the ice."

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend is very jealous but my husband isn't. My husband and I had a fight and I couldn't stand his silent treatment so I went to my boyfriend's. I had a fight with my boyfriend and told him I was going to move in with my sister, but I went back to my husband instead. My boyfriend found out I was

DEAR ESTELLE: Back? I think you are lucky to be rid of each other. I suggest you stick to your own husband and respect your promise to forsake all others.

Here's good advice from the world's largest maker of hardwood floors:

How to clean and wax wood floors in half the time

We frequently receive letters from home-makers who are confused about wood floor care. Our first recommendation is never use soap-and-water on wood floors. It ruins their appearance and can't budge some black marks and old, dirty wax.

After years of testing with our own wood floors, we discovered the only right way is to "dry clean" them. This method is not only the best, it's the easiest, too, because you clean-as-you-wax.

OUT-CLEANS SOAP-AND-WATER

We have developed two such products for home use—Bruce Floor Cleaner for a light coat of wax and Bruce Cleaning Wax for a heavier coat of wax. Both work in the same wonderful way. A little Bruce poured on a soft cloth wipes away stubborn dirt, marks and old wax that soap and water can't touch. Even black heel and furniture marks disappear easily. All the dirt comes up on the cloth, leaving your wood floor sparkling clean.

WAXES AS IT DRY CLEANS

As the dirt wipes off, a new coat of clean wax wipes on to guard the precious beauty of the wood through months of ordinary wear. A light polishing brings a rich, mellow look you'll love.

—we've decided that if the weatherman can have a five day forecast, so can we—Since ours involves only social activity, we have the feeling that it might, in some instances, be more accurate than one which pertains to atmospheric conditions.

So—we now forecast a very busy five days—a busy remainder of the week, in fact.

—today begins the ladies' day bridge series at the Hillcrest Country Club, and before the various four-somes settle down for an afternoon of playing and post-mortems, there is to be a luncheon.

Ladies' bridge day at Hillcrest this season probably will be the first and third Tuesday in each of the summer months—but in case there is a change in the schedule—we'll let you know.

Mrs. A. C. Griswold is the chairman of the bridge activities, and serving on the committee are Mrs. Fred Bowers and Mrs. E. T.

Hubbs.

—and from bridge at Hillcrest we turn to golf for the fair sex at the Lincoln Country Club. Following last season's schedule the feminine golfers have two ladies' days—one on Tuesday for those who play 18 holes—and one on Thursday for the 50 percenters—the nine holes group.

Hostesses for the 18 holes contingent today are Mrs. Carl Rohman and Mrs. W. W. Carveth. Doing the honors as hostesses on Thursday will be Mrs. James MacLean and Mrs. John Spray.

—then on Friday at the LCC, the mixed foursomes group will be out on the course. Serving on the committee for this Friday afternoon activity will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Agee, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ammon, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Black, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Idol, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boswell, Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth DuTeau, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Flansburg and Dr. and Mrs. Tom

—from bridge-to-golf-to the always fascinating topic of brides—

This morning Miss Bette Osterlund, whose marriage to William A. Fraser, Jr., will take place on June 10, announces the members of the bridal party. For her matron of honor Miss Osterlund has chosen Mrs. Francis Wanek, and the brides-matrons will be Mrs. Richard Cecil of Hastings, Miss Joyce Brigham and Miss Susan Fraser, sister of the bridegroom, will be the bridesmaids, and lighting the candles will be Miss Nancy Coover and Miss Marcia Laging.

Richard Cecil will serve Mr. Fraser as best man, and seating the guests will be John Osterlund, brother of the bride; John Gray of Morristown, N.J., Jack Carlin and Franklin Szama.

Sixth-Grade Party

Someone told us that the sixth grade class at East-ridge School had a big time last Saturday when the members met for a roller-skating party which was followed by an evening snack at the Eastridge Presbyterian Church. Sponsors for the affair were Miss Inez Baker, school principal; and the sixth grade teachers, Miss Vivian Gustafson and Mrs. Veda Thomas. The students presented charm bracelets inscribed with "Class of '58" to their chaperones.

BRIDES

In pre-nuptial courtesy to Miss Mary Lou McManus, a bride-elect of Saturday, June 28, Mrs. Elmer Dreher was hostess in her home on Friday evening, May 16, at a dessert supper and crystal shower. Twenty guests were on hand for the party.

A busy bride-to-be is Miss Patricia Beckman who has chosen Sunday, June 22, as the date for her marriage to Richard W. Cave. The wedding will be solemnized at 4:00 o'clock and will take place at the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church.

Included in the whirl of pre-nuptial courtesies planned for Miss Beckman was an afternoon dessert on Sunday, May 18, when the co-hostesses were Mrs. Joy Cave, Mrs. Harry Dreith and Mrs. Jerome Cave, Jr., who entertained at the Dreith home. The bride-to-be was presented a miscellaneous shower by the 25 guests.

Broken Glass Dessert

Two ladies deserve equal credit for this recipe: Mrs. W. R. Fredrickson of Moline, Ill., and Mrs. E. A. Wegner of Minneapolis, Minn.: Dissolve separately 1 pkg. each lime, orange, and raspberry gelatin, 1 1/2 cups hot water to each. Turn into pans and chill till firm, then cut into 1/2-inch cubes. Soften 1 envelope plain gelatin in 1/4 cup cold water. Dissolve in 1 cup hot pineapple juice. Cool thoroughly, then fold into 2 cups whipped cream flavored with 1/2 cup sugar and 1 tsp. vanilla. Carefully fold in colored gelatin cubes. Line large spring pan with lady fingers, sponge cake strips or a regular graham cracker crust. Pour in mixture and chill 6 to 12 hours. Serve with whipped cream to more than a dozen people.

Teen-Age Helpers

There's a new movement afoot in America! In many areas, teen-agers help out by performing simple tasks, or simply chatting with patients at mental hospitals and veterans' hospitals. At one West-coast city, teens wear candy-striped shirts or pinafores while at work in a children's hospital. Turning teen-agers into helpers instead of "problems" has solved a dilemma in many communities. A worthy idea for your church or club groups.

Heart of Your Home

Warmth is most certainly the heart of your home. So I often think of natural gas being part of that "heart". Gas controls home temperatures year-around, furnishes the flame for cooking, water heating and incineration. And this same wonder-fuel refrigerates food, too! The gas-heated home is a warm-hearted home because you have more time, with this efficient helper. It's a modern home — clean, safe, economically secure. Your local gas company keeps you supplied with natural gas, and Northern Natural Gas Company keeps your local community supplied! Two warm-hearted neighbors, bringing better living to you and yours.

Grandma's Muffin Motto

Even modern-day mixes rely on Grandma's favorite rule, when it comes to muffins. Stir the batter quickly, just enough to dampen the flour. Lightly, lightly please! Never beat muffin batter, never try to make it smooth. That "lumpy and rough" look is the right look in muffin mixing.

Hotter Water — and More

Did you know the location of your water heater has a lot to do with the temperature of hot water as it pours from the tap? When your new gas water heater is installed, be certain it's placed as near as possible to kitchen, bathroom and laundry trap outlets... what? Think you can't

Oh-Oh... Telephone!

Ever notice the phone always rings, just as you've put your hands into bread or cookie dough? Mrs. S. L. Hinzman of Omaha, Nebr., slips a plastic bag over her hand as she reaches for the telephone. Mighty clever, methinks!

Ribs for Two

Who doesn't love barbecued ribs? Try them the way Mrs. Roland Rooney of Minneapolis, Minn., fixes 'em: Brown about 2 lbs. lean spare ribs, pouring off all fat. Add sauce made of 1 can tomato soup, 1/2 can water, 1/3 cup brown sugar, 1 grated onion, 2 Tbsp. vinegar, 1 Tbsp. lemon juice, 1/2 tsp. salt, and 1/4 tsp. pepper, all ingredients mixed and heated. Simmer two to 2 1/2 hours over low heat. Add a little water if ribs are sticking.

Just Lovin' That Oven

Lots of reasons to praise the gas range, and its efficient oven! One of my favorite parts of this kitchen partner is the automatic timer clock. No more dashing home from bridge club in the middle of the last hand, to turn the oven on in time... no more dashing downstairs to the kitchen, to turn the oven off before something burns. Set the timer clock on your new gas range, and go your merry way! Such a pretty range, too—just see all the new models at your local gas company or neighborhood gas appliance dealer.

Take the wheel... get the Swept-Wing feel!

You spend a lot of time in your car—driving to work, shopping, taking trips. How your car rates on the road is important to you. So all we ask before you invest in a new car is this: Come in and take a "road rate" drive in a Swept-Wing 58

Dodge. Really compare it thoroughly on every count. We honestly believe it rides better, handles easier, responds quicker than any other car you've ever driven. But we'll leave the verdict entirely up to you. You be the judge.

YOU BE THE JUDGE! THINGS TO NOTICE IN THE SWEEP-WING 58:

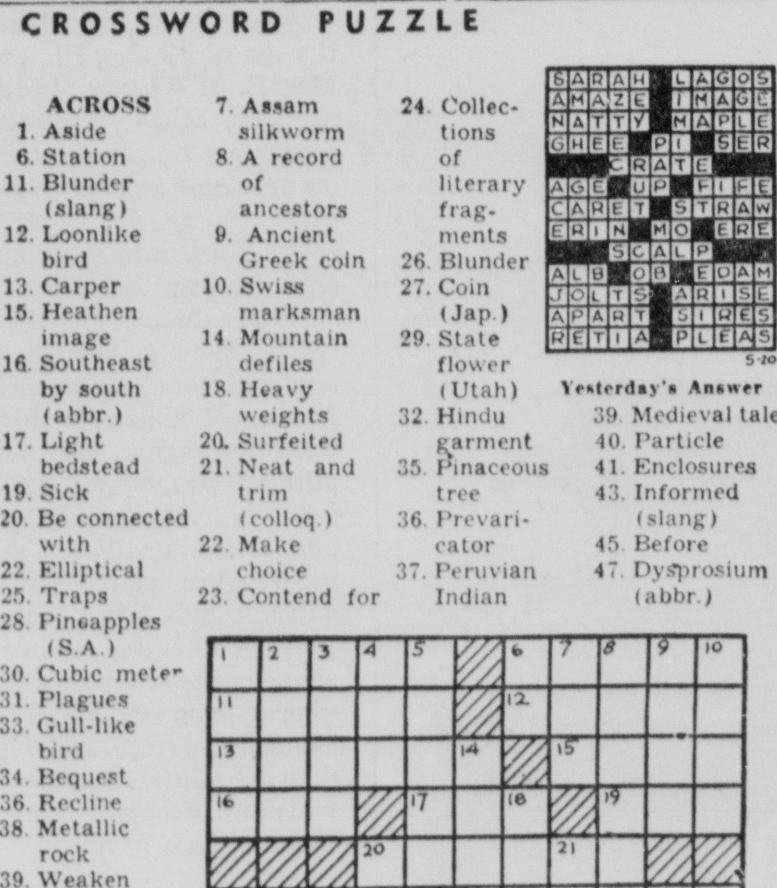

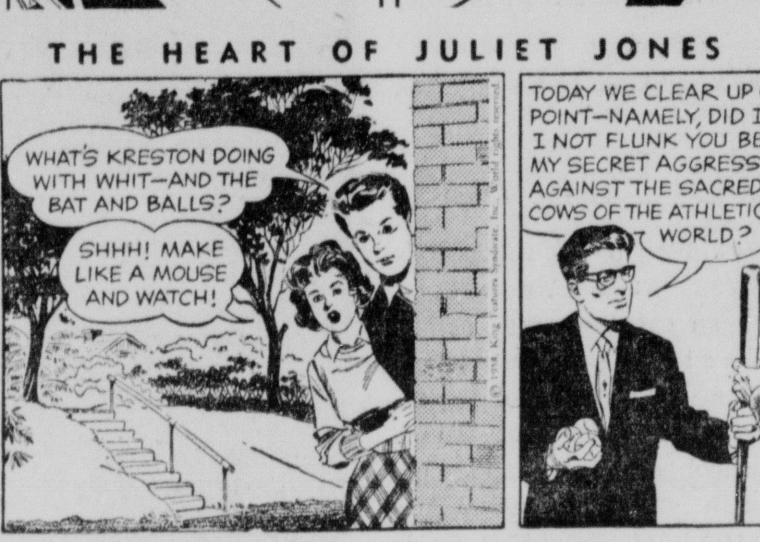

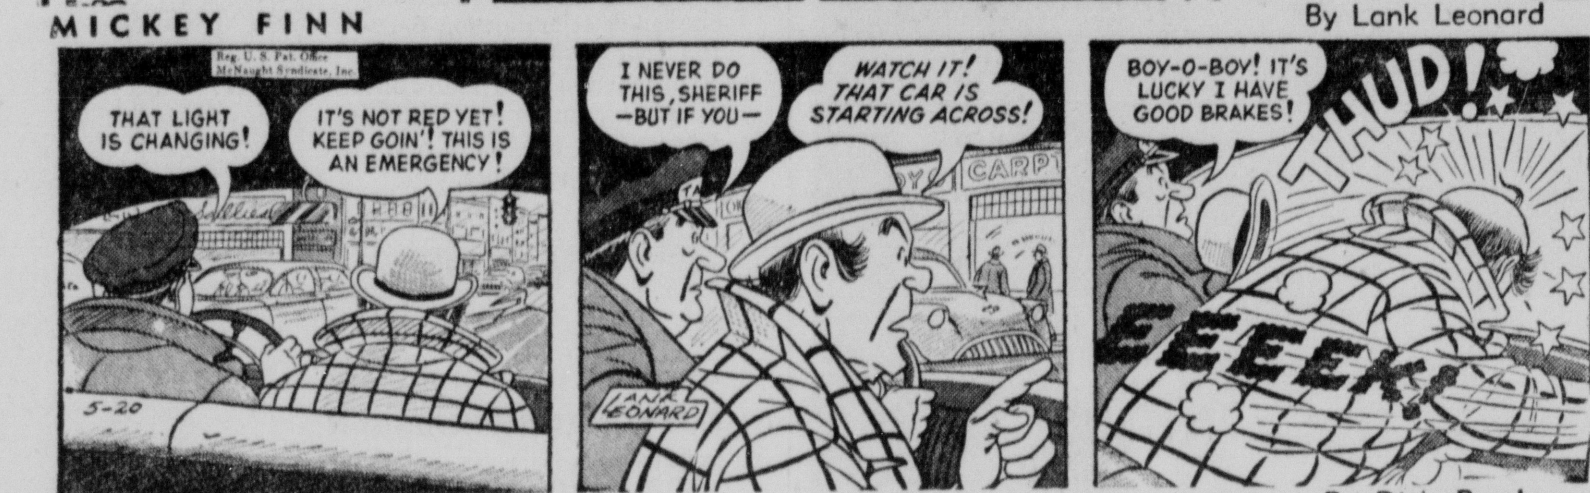

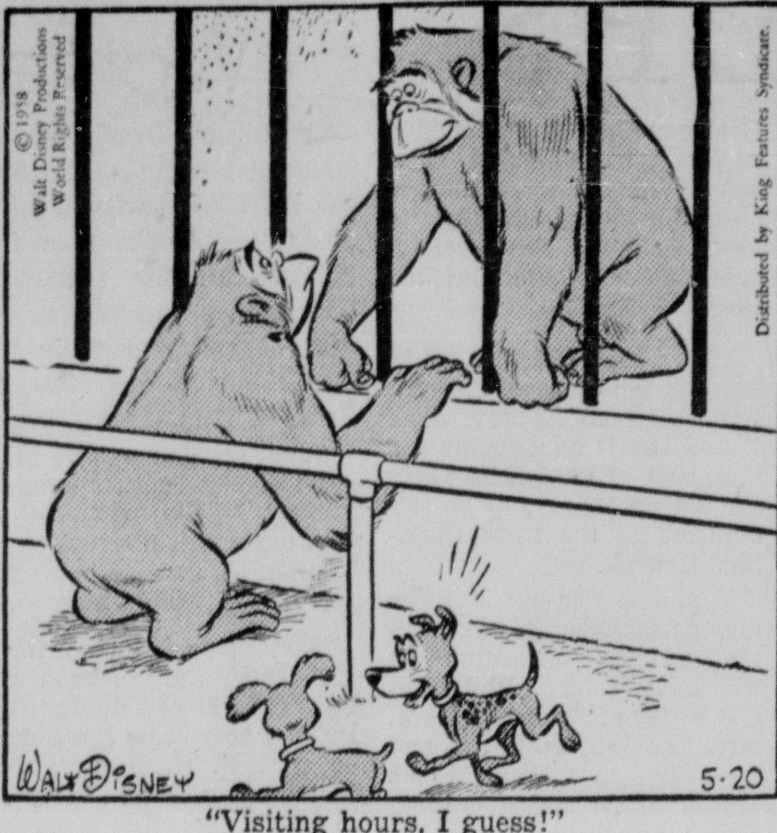

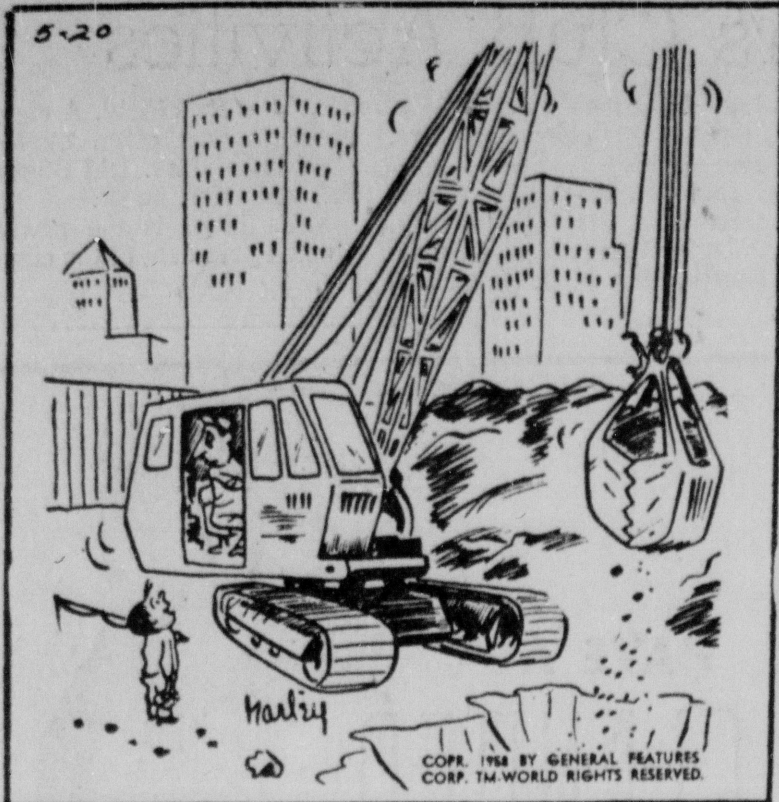

- The feel behind the wheel—You feel different because you sit differently. Low and snug and secure, completely in control, almost a part of the car.
- The ease of push-button driving—Once you try Dodge Push-Button TorqueFlite you'll never be happy with outmoded lever types. Ladies love it.
- A ride that's a glide—There's no sway on curves, no dip at stops. Torson-Aire is standard equipment, too.
- This power steering is different—No power steering is like Dodge power steering. It works full time, yet leaves you the feel of the road.
- Horsepower and stopping power—You get up to 320 hp. You get new-design Total-Contact Brakes.

Omaha South Nips LH 5-2

Omaha — Omaha South pitcher Dave Aden whistled a called third strike past pinch-hitter Don Burt with two out and the bases jammed in the top of the seventh to preserve a 5-2 victory over Lincoln High here Monday.

The Packers combed Link lefty Bill Honnor for seven hits, including a double, triple and home run, but it was Aden's two-run single in the fourth which produced the victory margin.

Left fielder Dick Gruedel staked South to a 1-0 lead in the second with a home run and Aden's single upped the margin to 3-0 in the fourth.

Singles by Harold Kelly, Lyle Porter and Charles Clark plus an infield grounder by Phil Gilbert produced Lincoln High's only runs in the fifth.

The Links, now 3-7 for the season, play next at Omaha Tech Friday.

SE Shuts Out Cathedral 1-0

Lincoln Southeast got only one hit, but didn't even use it in scoring a 1-0 victory over Omaha Cathedral here Monday.

Southeast, in upping its record to 5-3, scored on a balk in the sixth inning. Dennis Puelz opened the inning by walking, then raced all the way to third on an infield out. The balk brought him home.

Keith Sieck held Cathedral to 3 scattered singles in posting the victory.

Cemetery Wanted In Chavez Ravine

Los Angeles (AP)—Monday's developments in the City Council must have stunned Walter F. O'Malley.

O'Malley, owner of the Los Angeles Dodgers, anxiously awaits the June 3 election, when voters will decide whether he can go ahead with the building of a 12 million dollar baseball stadium in Chavez Ravine, about a mile from the City Hall.

The Chavez Ravine controversy has developed many comic opera aspects since O'Malley moved his Dodgers from Brooklyn to Los Angeles, but it became a full blown six-ring circus Monday as:

- (1) The city council voted unanimously to call for bids for oil drilling in Chavez Ravine, and
- (2) An undertaking firm offered to buy Chavez Ravine for $10,000 an acre to establish a cemetery there.

The cemetery offer was raised by Councilman John C. Holland. He read a letter from the undertaking firm that censured him for saying that he would not vote to have Chavez Ravine turned into a cemetery.

Council members James C. Corman and Rosalind Wyman moved to call for the oil bids and to zone the area as an oil district.

.400 Pace Lowers Musial's Average

New York (AP) — When a ballplayer hits at a .400 pace and loses ground that's news. When that player is Stan Musial it does not come under the heading of the unusual.

For Musial has been hovering around the .500 mark for most of the young campaign. A week ago, the brilliant star of the St. Louis Cardinals was batting .494. In his last seven games, Musial has collected eight hits in 20 times at bat — an even .400 clip.

Stan showed a still awesome percentage of .476 through Sunday's games. However, the continued productive slugging of San Francisco's Willie Mays could make for an intriguing season-long duel between these two excellent competitors.

In last week's action, Mays garnered 16 hits in 35 tries and boosted his average 19 points to .406. Seven of Willie's blows were homers putting him a second place dead-lock with teammate Orlando Cepeda and Chicago's Lee Walls. Each has 11. Pittsburgh's Frank Thomas leads in circuit blows with 12.

In the American League, Bob Nieman took over the batting lead with a .390 mark. The right-handed batting Baltimore outfielder, who had been used primarily against southpaw pitching in the first couple of weeks, moved into the regular lineup last week. He has collected eight hits in his last 15 trips.

Mickey Vernon, Cleveland's veteran first baseman, climbed one notch into the runner-up position. He gained 11 points to .384 with nine hits in 22 at bats.

Gil McDougald of the New York Yankees, the pace-setter a week ago, dropped into a third place tie at .373 with teammate Bill Skowron, who has been out with a back injury.

Bob Cerv of Kansas City, who suffered a fractured jaw in Saturday's game against Detroit, continues to lead the junior circuit in homers with 11 and runs batted in with 30.

However, Cerv's once-commanding lead in these departments is being challenged by Jackie Jensen of Boston. Jensen slammed four home runs and collected 10 RBIs last week. This gave the Red Sox' outfielder eight homers and 23 runs batted in for the year.

Daryl Spencer of the league-leading Giants took over first place in the National League's runs batted in competition. He has 31, an increase of 12 over last week.

Yankee Camp Set For Scottsbluff

Scottsbluff (AP) — The New York Yankees and Denver Bears will sponsor a baseball trout camp and coaching school here June 19-20.

Joe McDermott and Randy Gumpert, Yankee scouts, will be in charge of the camp and coaching school.

The camp is for youngsters 16 years of age and over, the age range to be announced later. The coaching school is designed for boy baseball team coaches.

A banquet is planned for the opening night of the two day school and a game between all-star teams is in the offing for the second night.

Pettit Is April Hickok Winner

New York (AP) — Bob Pettit, high-scoring ace of the St. Louis Hawks, pro basketball champion, Monday was named the April winner in the S. Rae Hickok "pro athlete of the year" competition.

Pettit was 28 points ahead of Arnold Palmer, winner of the Masters Golf tournament at Augusta, Ga. Stan Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals was third and Maurice Richard of the champion Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League was fourth.

Pettit received 28 first place votes and a total of 166 points with votes of sports writers and sportscasters figured on a 3-2-1 point basis. Palmer had 138 points, Musial 97 and Richard 93.

Loes' Spitball Theatrics Fail To Impress Critics

Detroit (AP) — The Sunday matinee theatrics of Baltimore pitcher Billy Loes was a complete bust.

Three critics — the Boston fans, the umpires, and Orioles Manager Paul Richards — all turned thumbs down on the performance.

Loes, the eccentric right-hander Baltimore purchased from the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1956, barely escaped a 10-day suspension while trying to make everyone in the ball park think he was throwing spitballs.

Behind 4-0 in the second inning and with Ted Williams at bat, Loes rubbed his hand across his mouth, stuck out his tongue as if applying saliva, and then gripped the ball.

The 28-year-old pitcher kept up the act despite warnings from umpires Charley Berry and Nestor Chylak, but finally quit the hamming after Richards walked out to the mound for a talk. Richards refused to say what he told the umpires in Loes' defense.

After the game, won by Boston 8-4, Loes spent a half hour closeted with Richards for a stern lecture. Richards said only, "We talked over several aspects of employer-pitcher relations."

Loes was still fuming after the talk, however.

"Richards tells me not to make the umpires look bad when I squawk about their calls because we may get the worst of it in a game," he said. "But if they're calling 'em bad I gotta squawk. That Nestor Chylak (behind the plate) had me loused up."

Senators Told Nixon Was Informed In Advance Of Danger In Venezuela

Washington (AP) — The State Department informed senators that Vice President Nixon was warned in advance of the "danger of disturbances in Venezuela" and was told of rumors of an assassination attempt before he reached that country on his recent goodwill trip.

But Robert Murphy, deputy undersecretary of state, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee: "On the basis of assurances by the Venezuelan government of its security measures, violence in Caracas was not anticipated. The intensity of the demonstrations which followed and the failure of the Venezuelan security forces to act effectively were not foreseen."

The committee called another closed meeting to consider the future course of its inquiry into the mistreatment of the Vice President and Mrs. Nixon in Latin America and anti-American demonstrations in Lebanon, Algeria and elsewhere.

Advantage

Murphy said the Communists have consistently taken advantage of every opportunity to agitate anti-American feelings. But he added "there is no evidence at present of a Soviet effort to effect a coordinated worldwide demonstration of anti-Americanism coinciding with the Vice President's visit to Latin America."

The committee, in a session lasting nearly 2½ hours, questioned both Murphy and Allen W. Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA), on the extent to which American intelligence was aware of the possibilities of violence on Nixon's trip.

The Vice President and his wife were stoned and spat upon in Caracas and suffered somewhat similar indignities in Lima, Peru.

No Report

Murphy's prepared statement subsequently was made public at State Department request. There was no report on Dulles' testimony, but Murphy said their reports were "in harmony."

Murphy's statement said the "problems and issues" in Latin America were known and Nixon was briefed on them, but there was nothing "in the past history of U.S.-Latin American relations to indicate the possibility of substantial violence."

He said that "from the very start it had been anticipated there might be more danger of disturbances in Venezuela than in any other place" and that this was made known to Nixon as well as to his Secret Service guard.

Hwy. Commission Bassett Hearing Set Wednesday

The State Highway Commission will meet Wednesday in Bassett, according to the office of L. N. Rens, state engineer.

The hearing will center on the possible relocation of U.S. 183 from Bassett to Springfield.

One route under consideration would remove certain corners and curves in the highway, and reduce the distance from Bassett to Springfield to some 15 miles. The other route would leave the highway some 10 miles north of Bassett and straight west 12 miles to U.S. 7.

On Thursday, the commission will inspect Neb. 250 near Rushville for possible improvements.

State Of Israel Bond Dinner Set Here Wednesday

Gerald Schwartz, newly-appointed Nebraska-Jowa regional manager for State of Israel Bonds, will speak at Wednesday night's dinner marking Israel's 10th birthday. The function, sponsored by the bond committee for Lincoln and Nebraska, is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Schwartz, who will headquarter in Omaha, has set up offices in the Cornhusker Hotel for the dinner. He served as publicity director of the Third U.S. Army in Germany in 1946 and 1947, and joined the Israel Bond organization in 1951.

Col. Avraham Yoffee, Israeli war hero, will be guest of honor and principal speaker.

A national goal of $75,000,000 in Israel Bond sales has been set for 1958. More than $335,000,000 have been sold since the first issue was floated 7 years ago. Dollars secured from the bonds provide Israel with its principal source of economic development capital.

Deadline Now March 1, 1959 In State Song Test

The deadline date for entries in the Nebraska State Song Contest has been extended from June 1, 1958 to Mar. 1, 1959.

The winner of the contest, sponsored by the Native Sons and Daughters of Nebraska, will receive $500 and will be assisted in securing a reputable publisher for the song.

The NSDN voted last September to sponsor a State Song Contest because Nebraska is one of the few states with no official state song.

There are less costly ways to make bourbon whiskies—but they'll never give you the smoothness you get in Early Times. Announce Way To Help Drain All 8 Sinus Cavities Without Discomfort
New decongestant tablet for sinus congestion sufferers acts both to drain clogged sinus cavities and relieve distressing head pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) Announcement has been made of a new tablet development which has the remarkable ability to help drain clogged sinus cavities and thus relieve congestion and pressure. The headaches, pressure pains, stuffed-up head, nasal drip, clogged breathing—all the unrelenting symptoms the sinus sufferer knows so well—are attacked directly by improving drainage of the sinus areas.

Most remarkable of all is the fact that this is accomplished with extraordinary speed and without discomfort of any kind. This new tablet does its remarkable work internally, through the blood stream. It deposits into every drop of blood plasma a new medication which is carried to the sinus area, where it shrinks the swollen doors to the sinus cavities and helps drain away the pain-causing pressure and congestion.

The shrinking substance in this new tablet has been so successful topically in promoting drainage of the sinus cavities that it is now prescribed more widely by doctors than any material for this purpose. This new medication is now available at drug counters without the need for a prescription under the name, Dristan® Tablets. Dristan Tablets cost only 98¢ for a bottle of 24 tablets. Buy and use Dristan Tablets with the absolute guarantee that they will drain away pain-causing pressure and congestion of the sinus cavities, relieve the pain and distress, or purchase price will be refunded.

B Approves Airline Routes Nearly Same As Nebraska Requested

The Lincoln Star 21
Tuesday, May 20, 1958

By the Associated Press

The Civil Aeronautics Board Monday approved a series of local airline routes for Nebraska.

In general the service was all that the state, now entirely without air feeder service, had asked for.

The CAB order substitutes local service for United Air Lines trunk service at Grand Island, North Platte and Scottsbluff.

It also suspended service by Braniff Airlines to Lincoln, North Platte and Scottsbluff. The CAB order substitutes local service for United Air Lines trunk service at Grand Island, North Platte and Scottsbluff.

The CAB order includes a route across northern Nebraska which no airline had applied for but which had been asked by the State Aeronautics Department.

Also suspended was Western Air Lines service through Chadron, Alliance and Scottsbluff. The board order includes the route awards:

Frontier Airlines:
Denver-Rapid City-Denver, Cheyenne, Scottsbluff, Alliance, Chadron, Hot Springs and Rapid City. (Permanent).

The Seven States Case, in which the CAB acted Monday, had been pending for nearly 2 years.

The initial hearings in the case were conducted by a CAB examiner in Omaha in June, 1956.

The board said it will certify new services to the area on a "use it or lose it" basis, a new development in extending local service to a greater number of communities.

Many new routes are involved in Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, Illinois, Wyoming, Colorado and Missouri.

Three airlines — Frontier,

Map shows Frontier (unbroken line) and Ozark (broken line) Airlines CAB approved Nebraska routes.

North Central and Ozark would provide the service.

Many of the route awards voted would be for a temporary period of 5 years. In any case, the board said it would review each of them after 18 months of operating experience.

It said unsatisfactory operating results would then bring prompt termination.

The board, in announcing its vote, said the most liberal policy would offer communities with marginal traffic potentialities a chance to demonstrate whether they can support local air service.

Many communities involved would be receiving air service for the first time.

The board said further details of the new policy would be spelled out in its formal opinion to be issued at a later date.

The board said under its policy it would, in the absence of unusual or compelling circumstances, start formal proceedings to determine whether to suspend or delete the service at a specific point if operations through the 7th to 18th month period showed an average of less than 5 enplaned passengers daily.

Arcadia Child Killed by Car

Arcadia, Neb. (AP) — A 20-month-old child suffered fatal injuries when a car door opened and he fell to a street here. The car driven by his father ran over him.

The victim was Billy Gene Elliott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elliott of Arcadia. The child died en route to a Loup City hospital.

Town Marshall James Hagood said the father made a U-turn and the car door opened.

The death raised Nebraska's fatality toll for the year to 88, against 92 at this time in 1957.

Anderson Favors Telephone Tax Exchange Plan

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP) — Gov. Price Daniel of Texas told applauding fellow governors that if the states can't finance a public school construction without federal help they will be giving up their "last bulwark" of independence.

Daniel predicted in a panel discussion of federal-state relations at the 50th annual Governors Conference that Congress will not approve President Eisenhower's plan to turn total financing of vocational education back to the states.

As Daniel spoke out, it was evident the governors are sharply divided on administration proposals to turn over to the states some federal programs in exchange for a portion of the telephone taxes now collected from Washington.

Democratic Govs. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine and Orville L. Freeman of Minnesota opposed these proposals.

Republican Govs. L. A. Dwinell of New Hampshire, Robert E. Smylie of Idaho and Victor E. Anderson of Nebraska and Democratic Gov. George Docking of Kansas supported Eisenhower's proposal to give the states $150 million in telephone taxes if they will finance completely vocational education and water pollution programs.

Gov. Anderson said the program is a challenge the governors must meet head on. Unless a federal trend toward usurping taxes is halted, he said, "No one can tell how long we will continue as a union of sovereign states."

Food Retailers Elect York Man President

Nebraska Food Retailers Assn. officers were announced Monday by Ernest A. Petersen, Omaha, newly-elected executive secretary.

Foreign Aid Needed For Third World

... Johnston Tells PTA

Omaha (AP) — Eric Johnston declared Monday night that the battle for the newly independent nations of Asia, Africa and the Middle East is being waged with foreign aid.

This "third world," created out of the old colonial empires, "is uncommitted to either of the older worlds—the world of communism or the western world," said Johnston.

"We need the third world today for our national survival."

Johnston's remarks were delivered to the 62nd annual convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Johnston is president of the Motion Picture Assn. of America and chairman of the committee for international economic growth.

He told the PTA that the weapons of a new Soviet offensive are grants, loan and technical assistance and make up a program inspired by the success of the United States' Marshall Plan in Europe.

"The third world concerns us because its quest for economic growth could carry it into the Communist camp if we close the gate of the free world camp," he said.

"Racial Suicide"

The vast strides being made in modern medicine may actually be a step toward racial suicide, a New York doctor warned.

Dr. Rene J. Dubos of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research told the national PTA:

"For the first time in the history of living things, we are allowing the survival of large numbers of biological misfits... by providing a type of medical care that permits those suffering from hereditary diseases to live longer and have children."

This, he said, may constitute a step toward racial suicide, however noble it might appear in the light of our religious convictions and present day ethics.

Modern medical and public health policies, Dr. Dubos said, "enlightened and successful as they are, may create new disease problems for generations to come."

The solution, he said, lies not only in newer and better wonder drugs but in recognizing and correcting the errors in social management which account for the prevalence of modern diseases in our communities.

Henry Amen Honored By City Grocers

Henry J. Amen, Lincoln grocer, was honored at a surprise dinner Monday night by the Lincoln Food Retailers Assn., for his 56 continuous years as an independent retail grocer.

Amen is a former city councilman, board chairman of the sanitary district, chairman of the Selective Service board, director of Continental National Bank and director of Lincoln Federal Savings and Loan Co. He is past president of the Food Retailers Assn. Mr. and Mrs. Amen recently celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary.

The mishap occurred 4½ miles south of Prague when his car went out of control on a gravel road and overturned. He was alone at the time of the mishap.

State Trooper Don Ling of Wahoo said the car rolled over 3 times and came to rest on its wheels. Woita suffered a broken neck.

Hastings Site Selected For Radar Base

Washington (AP) — The Defense Department disclosed plans Monday to construct 13 new Air Force radar bases, including one at Hastings, Neb.

Assistant Secretary of Defense Floyd S. Bryant listed the bases in testimony before a Senate Armed Services Subcommittee on a $1,684,361,000 military construction authorization bill.

He said an aircraft control and warning radar station is planned at Hastings.

Col. James S. Caples of Omaha, Air Force installations representative for the Missouri River region, said an exact site for the Hastings area base has not yet been chosen. Estimated cost is $5 million.

Col. Caples said the bases are an extension of the air defense system construction program started in 1950.

They will be similar to one located at the northwest outskirts of Omaha.

The base would include radar units, operational and base headquarters, dormitories and mess hall facilities, Col. Caples said.

Stassen Looks Like Long Shot

Pennsylvania Goes To The Polls Today

By The Associated Press
Pennsylvania and Maryland hold primary elections Tuesday with widest attention being given to Harold Stassen's bid for the Republican nomination for governor in Pennsylvania.

Stassen, former governor of Minnesota and more recently an aide to President Eisenhower, is bucking the Republican state organization. Its support went to Arthur T. McGonigle, a pretzel manufacturer.

Stassen also is fighting off charges that he is running in hopes that, as governor, he can hurt Vice President Nixon's chances of winning the GOP presidential nomination in 1960.

One of the voters, at Gettysburg, will be President Eisenhower who plans to stop off at his country home there en route to a speaking engagement in New York.

4 Seek Nomination

In Maryland, most interest was stirred up by the contest to become the Democratic nominee for senator. The 4 major candidates, James E. Bruce, Thomas D'Alesandro, Clarence D. Long and George P. Mahoney, all predicted victory.

There was little attention paid to the Republican contest for the senatorial nomination in Maryland. Sen. J. Glenn Beall had only token opposition for renomination.

Opponents Of Elgin Sale To NU Hit Back

... At Shennan Charge

"We're not misinformed," a spokesman heading a committee protesting the selling of the Elgin plant to the University of Nebraska, said Monday.

Ted Darby, Elgin employee, of 929 No. 39th, made the statement in answer to a charge by J. G. Shennan of Elgin, Ill., president of the watchmaking company, in which he said that workers seeking to axe the sale of Elgin's Lincoln plant are "not well informed."

The protest committee asserts that Elgin officials have never made known the price of the Lincoln plant for which prospective industry might bid.

The committee is made up of Hank Gruenemeyer, Doug Hayes, Dale Heiliger, Wes Rosenstock, Jack Eastburn and Darby.

Issues Statement
In a prepared statement issued to The Star Monday Darby said:

"In our meeting Saturday morning we proposed to Chancellor Hardin that he present a request to the Board of Regents. In this we asked that the Board delay action upon mutual consent with Elgin on the sale of their Lincoln plant to the University."

"I feel because of the governor's intervention in setting up the meeting between Chancellor Hardin and our Elgin group he felt our proposal was only a fair one. I am sorry he has been called away at this time. However, the State of Nebraska Resources Division and some prominent men in the City of Lincoln have the same feelings as I, in that every avenue has not been exhausted in procuring a replacement industry for Elgin."

"I would like to take this opportunity to ask our senators, and the Board of Regents to give the Elgin workers a chance to support and send their children to the University."

3-Year Sentence Given In Burglary

Kenneth Morrison of 1821 O was sentenced to a 3-year State Penitentiary term on a burglary charge by Lancaster District Judge Harry A. Spencer.

Morrison had pleaded guilty to breaking into the Van Allen Garage at 4144 So. 48th on Apr. 27 with intent to steal. A "felonious building entry" charge against the 24-year-old in connection with a break in the same night at the First Plymouth Congregational Church at 20th and D was dismissed by the County Attorney.

Letter To Urge Motor Carrier Rate Increase

A group of Lincoln shippers and receivers Monday prepared a form letter to use in urging the State Railway Commission to consider a proposed increase in shipping rates by motor carriers before a similar increase by railroads.

An application for a wage increase by motor carriers was filed with the commission Apr. 25. Nebraska railroads filed May 9 an application for authority to establish a $3.00 minimum charge on less-than-carload shipments in place of the current $1.75 minimum.

No dates for hearings on the 2 applications have been set.

Assessment Complaints Hearings Set

... 65 Thus Far

The Lancaster County Board of Equalization will begin hearings on 65 property assessment complaints starting next Monday, and will follow the hearings with examination of assessments on new industries and a check of personal property assessments.

Commissioner Rollin Bailey, new equalization board chairman, said further property tax hearings will probably be scheduled after all complaints are in. The board is required to meet not less than 3 nor more than 40 days for tax assessment complaints.

The 65 complaints already received is far fewer than the complaint hearings of 1956 which numbered 244, and also below last year's 87 complaints.

Bailey explained that the review of new industrial property follows estimates of a professional appraisal. The board of equalization consisting of the 3 county commissioners will probably visit the plants, and discuss the appraisal with owners in order to determine if the tax assessment is in line with other properties.

Bailey added that the amount of time which will be spent on review of personal property tax forms has not yet been determined.

Virginia, Arkansas Chiefs Point To New Integration Troubles In September

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP)—Governors of Virginia and Arkansas, on the sidelines of the National Governors Conference, pointed to new possibilities of difficulty over integration when public schools open in September.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond of Virginia, in the wake of a crucial reverse for his state in a school segregation case, said state laws "will be applied in an honest effort to save public education" from chaos.

Gov. Orval Faubus of Arkansas said he might call out the Arkansas National Guard again when Little Rock schools open this fall—if that is necessary to prevent violence.

The pair of southerners spoke out as the governors formally opened their golden anniversary conference and quickly collided over Eisenhower administration proposals to hand over a pair of federal programs to the states.

Criticism

Men on opposite sides acclaimed the idea as a step toward restoring government to control of the people or assailed it with calls for more federal aid and criticism that it represents an about face by Eisenhower.

This merely brought into the public forum of the conference sharp differences already evident in off-stage statements and news conferences—not only on federal-state relations but also on segregation, politics, tax cuts and recession remedies.

Faubus was talking at a news conference at about the time the Supreme Court in Washington refused to consider a Virginia appeal of an order by U.S. District Judge Albert V. Bryan of Alexandria, Va., that 7 Negroes must be admitted to white schools in Arlington County.

Faubus had no comment on the court's action, which raises the possibility that the schools may be shut under Virginia laws which say public schools must close in the event of racial integration.

No Change

Almond said: "I see no change in the situation in Virginia." He added his remark about applying the state laws to prevent chaos.

Faubus has contended all along that he called out the National Guard last fall, not to balk another Federal Court order ordering desegregation at Little Rock's Central High School, but to maintain peace. "I'm not arguing," he told newsmen, "whether integration is right or wrong. It won't help any to make a scapegoat of me. It won't help the Negro, the country or Arkansas."

State Backs Change In Pollution Act

Approval of an amendment to the federal water pollution control act calling for an annual appropriation of $100 million to the state for sewage plant construction purposes and increasing to $500,000 the maximum federal money available to any one city, was voted Monday by the State Health Board.

The Board directed State Health Director Dr. E. A. Rogers to wire their endorsement of the amendment which has been proposed by Rep. John A. Blatnik (D-Minn.), and to include Nebraska's proposal that federal matching funds be increased on an individual basis from 30% to 50%.

Reviewing the progress to date in Nebraska on water pollution control projects, T. A. Filipi, director of the sanitation division of the Health Department, said sewage treatment construction has been completed at Hastings, Utica, Elmwood and Hildreth, with funds provided by the federal act.

Construction has started on plants at Beatrice, Cozad, Ogallala and Omaha, Filipi said, and contracts have been awarded for plants at Superior, Milford, Shelton and Clarks.

A review of the nursing home survey now being conducted among the state's 360 licensed nursing homes and homes for the aged on the quality and quantity of nursing care being provided, shows that more than 117 homes have been visited since the survey started about 2 months ago.

Hruska Again Cites Support For VA Here

Sen. Roman Hruska (R-Neb) Monday reaffirmed his support for Lincoln in the struggle to keep the Veterans Administration offices here.

"I have informed the VA director Sumner Whittier recently in an open meeting that I favor retention of the offices in Lincoln," the Omaha senator said.

Hruska expressed hopeful optimism that Whittier's decision, now slated for about May 29, will be in favor of the offices remaining here instead of moving to the new Omaha federal building upon its completion.

Hruska also said he was hopeful that a proposed inter-continental ballistic missile base for Nebraska would include part of the Mead ordnance plant.

The senator concluded with the statement that Republican party prospects for more representation in Congress are becoming brighter.

St. Louis Man Tries To Kill 3-Year-Old Son

St. Louis (AP)—"I killed my son."

A St. Louis County laborer walked into a police station Monday and told police that.

Officers hurried to an isolated spot on the river and found 3-year-old Carlos Hensley—alive but dazed. He had bruises about his face and throat and was taken to a hospital.

The boy's father, James Hensley, told police he had choked the youngster to death because he and his wife argued constantly about how to raise Carlos.

Police booked Hensley suspected of assault with intent to kill. They said he had been in a mental institution twice.
